AN [illegible] CORD

AN EXCEPTIONAL BOOK
BY AN EXCEPTIONAL BINDERY

THIS TRADE LIST ANNUAL IS AN EXTRAORDINARY BOOK—IN MAKE-UP AND IN SIZE. FEW PLANTS WOULD CARE TO UNDERTAKE ITS BINDING. YET FOR THE PAST 46 YEARS WE HAVE HANDLED IT WITH EASE AND WITHOUT INTERRUPTION TO THE HUNDREDS OF OTHER TITLES THAT GO THROUGH OUR PLANT AT THE SAME TIME.

EXPERIENCE OF OVER THREE-QUARTERS OF A CENTURY; FACILITIES OF UNSURPASSED EXCELLENCE; AND CAREFUL SUPERVISION BY TRAINED EXECUTIVES ENABLE US TO DO THE UNUSUAL IN BINDING.

WE WELCOME THE OPPORTUNITY TO SUBMIT IDEAS AND PRICES ON YOUR WORK.

The Mind of the Negro as Reflected In Letters Written During the Crisis 1800-1860

CARTER GODWIN WOODSON

Cloth, 704 Pages Price $5.25 by mail

"How much I would give, if I could just get into the mind of that Negro for a few moments and see the world from his point of view! If I could just think black! The Negro after all is a problem!" So spoke one years ago.

This collection of letters makes a step in this direction. These documents not only show that the Negro was thinking about things which peculiarly concerned him, but that he made some observations which enable the reader to view men and measures of the antbellum period in a different light.

The Negro in the Reconstruction of Virginia

By ALRUTHEUS AMBUSH TAYLOR, A. M.

Author of The Negro in South Carolina during the Reconstruction

Cloth, 300 pages Price, $2.15 by mail

South Carolina has been spoken of as one of the most unfortunate of the reconstructed States. Virginia has been regarded as one of the least affected thereby. This book, then, offers the opportunity for the study of this period from an angle slightly different from that of the treatment of South Carolina.

Although scientific, the work does not show the dull style of the monographist which taxes the mind of the student. The book is fraught with so many interesting scenes and comments that it grips the reader to the end. It is one of the most valuable historical works recently written.

The author largely restricts himself to the study of the Negro, but at the same time he says much more about other factors of the reconstruction than we can find elsewhere. Mr. Taylor has therefore demonstrated that the history of the reconstruction is yet to be written.

FREE NEGRO HEADS OF FAMILIES IN THE UNITED STATES IN 1830

A valuable statistical Report with an illuminating Introduction compiled under the Direction of and edited by

DR. CARTER G. WOODSON

Editor of the Journal of Negro History

The aim of this report on the Free Negro Heads of Families is to facilitate the further study of this neglected group. Most of these people have been forgotten. Persons supposedly well informed in history are surprised to learn today that about a half million, almost one-seventh of the Negroes in this country, were free prior to the emancipation in 1865. It is hardly believed that a considerable number of Negroes were owners of slaves themselves, and in some cases controlled large plantations.

VEILED ARISTOCRATS

A Purpose Novel

By GERTRUDE SANBORN

An absorbing story full of vivid characters written with a swing and showing admirable technique. It is the most powerful and the most significant of any of the novels inspired by the social crisis.

240 pages. $1.50 net, $1.65 by mail

THE NEGRO IN OUR HISTORY

By DR. CARTER G. WOODSON

A valuable treatise which holds the attention to the end of an entertaining and informing story. Without it the history of America cannot be known or appreciated. This book meets the long-felt want for an illustrated textbook on Negro History for schools and colleges. Every American citizen should have it in his library.

Fourth Edition Revised and Enlarged

525 pages. Illustrated. Price $3.15 by mail

A CENTURY OF NEGRO MIGRATION

By DR. CARTER G. WOODSON

This is the first effort to trace the movements which have, during the last century, set the Negro population moving from the South to the North. Every phase of Negro life and history having a bearing on this neglected field has been adequately treated. Why the Negroes have gone, where they have settled, and what they are doing, are all carefully explained.

220 pages. Price $2.10 by mail

THE HISTORY OF THE NEGRO CHURCH

By DR. CARTER G. WOODSON

In one panorama the reader sees the coming of the early missionaries, the appearance of the Negro preacher as the result of liberalizing influences, the rise of the African church, its struggles with forces without and within, and finally its triumph as a socializing institution around which develops the new life of a rising race. This book may be read with profit, therefore, by any seeker after the truth and must be read by all desiring to be informed as to the social forces at work in this country.

330 pages. Illustrated. Price $2.65 by mail

THE EDUCATION OF THE NEGRO PRIOR TO 1861

By DR. CARTER G. WOODSON

This book is unique in that it is the first attempt to write an account of the efforts put forth to enlighten the Negroes during the days of slavery. It is constantly referred to as an authority constituting a new page in the history of the black man. This is one of the few books treating Negro history scientifically.

THE OUTSTANDING BOOK OF THE YEAR

NEGRO POETS AND THEIR POEMS

By ROBERT T. KERLIN, Ph.D.

Author of "The Voice of the Negro"

Beautifully Illustrated

Written about the "Black and Unknown Bards" who gave to the world the priceless treasure of those canticles of love and woe.

Written to show that there is developing among Negroes an empire of letters in a sequestered sphere, where a new philosophy of life is in the making.

Written by a scholar, a thinker, a philanthropist, a man, an all but martyr in the struggle for human rights.

Written in a useful form adapted to the need of the classroom, the library, and the home.

NEGRO ORATORS AND THEIR ORATIONS

By DR. CARTER G. WOODSON

Editor of the Journal of Negro History

This work presents an unbroken development of the thought of the Negro as it found expression in the spokesmen of the race. Each leader is introduced with an informing sketch of his life. Then follow the orations in which the spokesman has given expression to the feelings of his particular group and suggested a program for the realization of its dreams. How these utterances connected with other thought and what they accomplished for the good of the cause may be studied further by using the footnotes appearing from page to page.

TOUSSAINT LOUVERTURE

A BIOGRAPHY IN FRENCH

Edited with an Introduction and Notes and Vocabulary

By G. R. SIMPSON, Ph.D.

Instructor in Modern Language in the Dunbar High School, Washington, D. C.

The purpose of this work is to present this interesting story as stimulating reading matter for French classes. While thus planned for teaching a language, the work is intended at the same time to increase the student's knowledge of history. The work will, therefore, prove to be useful not only to the teachers and students but will make a useful volume for anyone interested in studying Western civilization as it affected the Negro rising in the French colonies more than a century ago.

THE NEGRO IN SOUTH CAROLINA DURING THE RECONSTRUCTION

By A. A. TAYLOR, A.B., A.M.

Associate Investigator of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History

This book comes unexpectedly in response to an urgent need. Teachers of history questioning the unsupported assertions of historians writing on the Reconstruction have longed for a scientific treatment of the period by some liberal-minded person far removed from either side of the conflict. This is just the sort of work which Mr. Taylor has fortunately produced.

What Vice-President Dawes Says about Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia

"This encyclopedia will aid in training children to think straight. It is alive and practical. The more we have of that kind of education the better for the country."

10 beautiful volumes, bound in durable Buckram, or Fabrikoid, or genuine Morocco. Over 4000 pages, almost 10,000 pictures, 99% of the pictures are halftones.

Hundreds of Booksellers Are Big Enough to Do This—

HUNDREDS of booksellers are big enough to render, day after day, a certain very real service to their customers—even though it pays them no profit except in terms of increased good-will.

When a customer asks for the best Encyclopedia for children, these booksellers immediately say, "Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia!" They know that there is no direct financial profit in it for themselves—that F. E. Compton & Company cannot sell through bookstores, because of long-standing agreements with its hundreds of reputable subscription-book representatives.

But these booksellers likewise know that Compton's IS the best Encyclopedia for children—and that a Compton customer is a real friend of the bookseller who suggested the purchase. And, the book business being more a matter of customer-friendship and confidence than one immediate sale, these booksellers answer the query by saying, "Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia is the one you mean, Madam. Write to them direct for prices and easy terms. Their name and address is—

Salesmanship and Business Efficiency

By J. S. KNOX

Salesmanship and Business Efficiency has had a sale of nearly a quarter of a million copies in the United States and nineteen foreign countries. Twelve great corporations have bought and used 36,399 copies for their own employees. No equal sale of any other business book have ever been known.

This book contains the greatest selling tactics, strategy and closing arguments developed by the greatest sales organizations of America during the last quarter of a century. It is as fascinating as a novel and as valuable as a little gold mine.

"Salesmanship and Business Efficiency was worth one thousand dollars in cold cash to me the first year after I got it."—O. Salisbury, President, Penn Oil and Supply Co., St. Joseph, Missouri.

The Science of Judging Men

By DR. EDWIN MORRELL

This book is a short course in Character Analysis. It analyzes people of different temperaments and shows why all people of the same temperament act and react in the same way. It analyzes many of the world's great leaders and shows the salesman how to handle them.

The book contains thirty-five cuts and photographs. It is fascinating from beginning to end. It contains analyses and information that are a revelation to the average man not only about other people, but about himself.

"Men in business are necessarily required to judge men and the information in this volume will be very helpful toward judging rightly," says Chas. W. Mears, famous advertising man and ex-President of the Cleveland Advertising Club.

Beautiful maroon cloth cover. 145 pages. $2.00 prepaid.

The Science and Art of Selling

By J. S. KNOX

This book contains many unusual features not found in any other work on Salesmanship. It has twenty-one charts that clearly visualize the fundamental factors of business, the human mind and how to deal with it, a sale and how it is made.

The book contains eight retail and specialty selling talks—the best that could be found in the entire country. One of them won a prize of $250.00. This feature alone is worth infinitely more than the price of the book.

A most valuable feature is an analysis of efficient and inefficient selling methods. In this department the individual is able to determine the difference between good and bad selling methods in any business.

Albert Sidney Gregg, the magazine writer, says: "It is not over-stating it to say that the author has condensed into one volume the essence of a dozen books."

To see this book is to want it.

385 pages. Price $2.50.

The above books are sold with the absolute guarantee of your money back if you are not more than satisfied.

The reproduction of wall paintings in a Theban tomb unusual in that its benefits were shared by two men alike, apparently because they were married to the same woman. A discussion of the craft of the sculptors as depicted on the walls, their social position and family relationships.

PUBLICATIONS IN PRESS

HANDBOOK OF THE CLASSICAL COLLECTION. By Gisela M. A. Richter. Fully illustrated.

A general introduction to Greek and Roman art and a description of the chronologically arranged period rooms. The fifth edition is in press.

THE MONASTERY OF EPIPHANIUS AT THEBES. By W. E. Crum, H. G. Evelyn White, and H. E. Winlock. Publications of the Museum's Egyptian Expedition, III and IV.

Two of a series of volumes on the Museum's excavations in Egypt. They describe an early Christian monastery and give the texts, with translations, and commentaries of, several hundred letters and other documents written by the monks.

NEW TEXTS FROM THE MONASTERY OF ST. MACARIUS. By Hugh G. Evelyn White. Publications of the Museum's Egyptian Expedition. Vol. II.

This volume deals with a mass of leaves and fragments of Coptic manuscripts found in 1922 in a storeroom of the Monastery of St. Macarius in the Wady 'n Natrûn, during an investigation into the history and architecture of the monastery which was being carried out by the Museum's Expedition. Many of these leaves proved to belong to manuscripts originally in the library of this monastery which had found their way into various European libraries about the middle of the last century.

TWO RAMESSIDE TOMBS AT THEBES (those, namely, of the Priest Userhêt and of the Sculptor Apy). By N. de Garis Davies. Robb de Peyster Tytus Memorial Series, Vol. V.

This is a further volume in the Museum's series of folio publications describing and illustrating the rock-cut tombs of Thebes. The author describes and interprets the brilliantly painted wall-scenes in which are depicted many phases of daily life and religious belief of the time. Photographic, line, and color plates furnish a full and invaluable record of the various scenes in detail.

A GUIDE TO THE COLLECTIONS

A fifth edition will be issued in the fall.

MAKING and UNMAKING CIVILIZATIONS

These books will interest any Student and Thinker

CIVILIZATIONS do not spring up overnight or suddenly. It takes ages of coöperation, hard work and self-denial to make a beginning, and then the hardship has but begun. The people who work for civilization must meet prejudice and brutality from uncivilized neighbors. When the civilization is established it is subject ot overthrow from within and from without.

ANCIENT CIVILIZATIONS.

420 pages. $3.

CHRISTIAN CIVILIZATIONS.

420 pages. $3.

These two books for $5.

PAMFLETS.

THE CONSTITUTION AND LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES

Few to-day have read and fewer understood this great document. In this pamflet each item is considered honestly and boldly. 52 pages.

WHAT IS CHRISTIANITY? WHO IS A CHRISTIAN?

For about fifty years the New Testament has been losing its hold on the churches. Mahomet has taken the place of Jesus. This essay is a defense of Jesus and Paul. 32 pages.

EVOLUTION AND MATERIALISM AND WHAT THEY HAVE DONE

Herein are displayed the shortcomings of "science." Darwin said he did not know, but his disciples assume that he did. It is to laugh! 32 pages.

CORPORATIONS AND TRADE UNIONS.

He that oppresses the poor to increase his gain
And he that gives to the rich shall come to want.
—Proverbs xxii. 16.

Any three of these pamflets for 25 cents.

LESTER'S SPELLING REVIEW

Fifth Edition

The result of twelve years' study of the misspellings in the written compositions of candidates for College Board Entrance Examinations.

Part II presents in order of frequency the 775 words most commonly misspelled, calls attention to the actual danger-point in each word, and presents a method of learning which has proved efficient by the test of ten years' practice.

Part I presents in a series of lessons the principles most necessary in the learning of this material, their order and relative importance being determined by calculation of their actual applicability to the material collected.

57 pages, cloth bound, with corrective exercises, "Spelling Thermometer." Price 50 cents.

LESTER'S GATEWAY TO AN ENGLISH VOCABULARY

(Ready September, 1926)

The result of six years' study and classroom practice in methods of enlarging the vocabulary of students. Partial table of contents: 1. On the value of knowing words, 2. Vocabulary lists, 3. The dictionary and how it helps, 4. Origins of words, 5. How words get new meanings, 6. How words grow. Illustrations and diagrams, with Key to Exercises for the guidance of teachers.

THIRTY YEARS AMONG THE DEAD

By Carl A. Wickland, M.D.

This book is of unusual interest to students of the problem of an after-life and the relationship between the two planes of existence, visible and invisible. The author does not seek to promulgate an ism or cult but presents the records of thirty years experimental research in this obscure field in the interest of psychological science—normal and abnormal. The evidence obtained with the assistance of Mrs. Wickland, the author's wife, whose remarkable psychic endowment has made direct contact with the invisible world possible, has indubitably demonstrated that and that discarnated Intelligences play an important role in human affairs, both for good and for evil.

DEATH, SO-CALLED, IS A MISNOMER

The New Student's Reference Work

A CHILD'S ENCYCLOPEDIA

Edited by Dr. Frank McMurray, Dr. Frank Crane, Dr. John M. Coulter, Dr. Rollin R. Salisbury, Dr. Henry Crew, Mrs. Eleanor Atkinson and two hundred other prominent American educators.

The non-technical, interesting language in the articles make this child's reference work appealing for home and school use. Its popularity is shown by its large sale of over 1,000,000 sets.

Eight volumes, illustrated, up-to-date, price (Buck.), $39.75.

Abingdon Religious Education Texts.

DAVID G. DOWNEY, General Editor

NORMAN E. RICHARDSON } Associate
GEORGE HERBERT BETTS } Editors

The writers of the Abingdon Religious Education Texts have all been selected because of their loyalty to six primary considerations: (1) The fundamentals of Evangelical Christianity; (2) Scientific accuracy; (3) Intelligent sympathy with the denominational point of view and that spirit of interchurch cooperation which is making possible a national and even a world program; (4) The true function of religion in a program of community upbuilding; (5) The assembling and organizing of that knowledge which will be most helpful from the standpoint of practical efficiency, and around which inspiring enthusiasm on the part of both teacher and pupil can readily be fostered; (6) The meaning of religious education to American democracy.

These pamphlets deal with specific practical problems which parents face. Each pamphlet is devoted to a single subject. The material is entertainingly written and is suited to the needs of fathers and mothers. In every case sound principles of civic, moral, and religious education have been recognized, but this literature deals especially with the practical application of these principles. More and more the nation is depending upon the home for those qualities of citizenship without which democracy cannot endure. The home is facing the challenge and responsibility of creating a new era. The Series is intended to help parents intelligently to face the new day and to create the highest type of American citizenship which the world has yet known.

These pamphlets deal with specific practical problems which parents face. Each pamphlet is devoted to a single subject. The material is entertainingly written and is suited to the needs of fathers and mothers. In every case sound principles of civic, moral, and religious education have been recognized, but this literature deals especially with the practical application of these principles. More and more the nation is depending upon the home for those qualities of citizenship without which democracy cannot endure. The home is facing the challenge and responsibility of creating a new era. The series is intended to help parents intelligently to face the new day and to create the highest type of American citizenship which the world has yet known.

Bible the Word of God, The. Translated from the German. 12mo. $1.50.

The fundamental tenet of this book is the unquestionable truthfulness and reliability of the Holy Scriptures.

Science and Christianity. Translated from the German. 12mo. $1.50.

Shows the Christian and biblical conception of the universe to be more logical and more scientific than the materialistic and atheistic.

Betts, Anna Freelove.

Mother-Teacher of Religion, The. Materials for the Earliest Lessons in Religion in the Home. (Birth to School Age.) Crown 8vo. Illustrated. *$1.50; by mail, $1.65.

This volume is a complete guide to the early home training of the child in religion. In simple, direct fashion, with many concrete illustrations, it tells when to begin and how to proceed.

(See Abingdon Religious Education Texts.)

Betts, George Herbert.

Curriculum of Religious Education, The. Crown 8vo. *$3.00; by mail, $3.30.

The major purposes of this volume are (1) to give a brief but sufficiently comprehensive outline of the origins and historical development of the present religious curriculum; (2) to formulate the educational principles and state the fundamental theory which should govern in the making of a curriculum of religious education; (3) to describe and in some measure estimate the essential value of the current curricula of our church schools.

Curriculum of Religious Education, The. Paper, *15c.

(See Occasional Papers.)

How to Teach Religion. Principles and Methods. Crown 8vo. *$1.00; by mail, $1.10.

The purpose has been to define the aim of religious instruction so definitely and concretely that every teacher may have a goal set before him. How we shall conduct our classes to make our teaching stick, and how to make the lessons carry over to Christian character and church loyalty are problems fully discussed and exemplified.

New Program of Religious Education, The. Crown 8vo. *75c.; by mail, 85c.

This new volume by Dr. Betts is undoubtedly the most significant book of the year in the field of religious education. It defines as no other discussion has attempted to do the place of religious education in the work of the church.

(See Abingdon Religious Education Texts.)

Boreham, F. W.

Bunch of Everlastings, A, or, Texts that Made History. A volume of sermons. 12mo. $1.75.

Mr. Boreham has produced a book of unusual sermons, biblical to the core, rich in genuine religiousness and dynamic with zeal for righteousness. They will put an edge on every man's thinking.

Casket of Cameos, A. More Texts that Made History. 12mo. $1.75.

This volume of sermons will take its place by the side of A Bunch of Everlastings and A Handful of Stars—volumes that have won a very wide popularity.

Crystal Pointers, The. 12mo. $1.75.

While cruising on the Southern Ocean, some years ago, amid ice and gloom, there was some speculation by Boreham and his companions as to the points of the compass and the bearings of the vessel. Suddenly two points of light gleamed over the shoulder of one of the bergs. They were "the Pointers." He says: "Everything in these Austral lands knows the Pointers. Strictly speaking, they are no part of the Southern Cross; but they point to it: and he who catches sight of them looks wistfully for the glittering Cross itself. Somehow, this experience of years ago rushes back upon my mind as I lift my pen from these pages. The papers that I have written possess no value or importance of their own; but they point to things that no man can afford to miss: that is their only glory."

Faces in the Fire. And Other Fancies. 12mo. $1.75.

These essays are short but gripping. This Australian author covers a wide range of topics, but always makes them shine with electric beauty.

Faggot of Torches, A. Texts that Made History. 12mo. $1.75.

Another volume by this brilliant Australian preacher and author on texts that have helped to shape notable personalities.

Golden Milestone, The. 12mo. $1.75.

The book is a joy because it takes the common things of life and transfigures them before your mental vision. It is educational and religious, but far from being dry reading.

Handful of Stars, A. Texts That Have Moved Great Minds. 12mo. $1.75.

The author appropriates the title of this book from Caliban, who cries out, "O God, if you wish for our love, fling us a handful of stars." And these "stars" are here gathered together to make a companion to his volume entitled "A Bunch of Everlastings," for, as Boreham remarks, "it is not good that a book should be alone."

Home of the Echoes. 12mo. $1.75.

This book, with its charm of conversational style, undimmed wisdom and glimpses into an Australian bigness of country and thought, is one of fascination.

Luggage of Life, The. 12mo. $1.75.

These messages—"Leaves," as the author calls them—are of Australian growth, their delightful odor being a part of the proof thereof.

Mountains in the Mist. Some Australian Reveries. 12mo. $1.75.

The author has his own quaint and delightful way of putting things, and there is such a cheeriness in what he says, and such pleasing originality of expression that the reader finds a refreshing tonic in each subject brought to his mind.

Mushrooms on the Moor. 12mo. $1.75.

Agreeable reading for a quiet hour, these lively essays are. But they are more than this. They help the reader to stand where the writer stood and gain his hopeful, wholesome view of life.

Other Side of the Hill and Home Again, The. 12mo. $1.75.

A delightful collection of essays, rich in suggestion, original, appreciative of the ordinary experiences of life, with a wholesome humor that gives to the style an attractiveness that places the author in a class by himself.

Reel of Rainbow, A. 12mo. $1.75.

Original, epigrammatic, challenging. Fully maintains the author's wide reputation as a thinker and writer of unusual versatility and power.

Rubble and Roseleaves. 12mo. $1.75.

This group of essays contains illustrations of Boreham's best gifts in the appraisement of life in its highest, deepest, and broadest reaches.

Shadows on the Wall. 12mo. $1.75.

In his brief introductory note the author remarks: "The figures that float across these pages are like shadows dancing on the wall. They show that life is crowded with realities and flooded with radiance, for without substance and sunshine there can be no shadows."

Silver Shadow, The. 12mo. $1.75.

Snapshots of things, people, and ideas. A budget of entertaining and thought-provoking charts.

Tuft of Comet's Hair, A. 12mo. $1.75.

In this group of essays we have another series of fascinating analyses of humanity from many different angles and in many varying phases. And as everybody is or should be interested in appraisals of humankind this volume will meet with wide acceptability.

Uttermost Star, The. And Other Gleams of Fancy. 12mo. $1.75.

The same easy and delightful style that characterizes the former volumes is found here.

Wisps of Wildfire. 12mo. $1.75.

The author brings an atmosphere from the wide plains of Australia that grips one even as the plains themselves do. Uniqueness of thought and turns of expression make these essays delightful, and through them all is a fine gleam of steadfast faith and spiritual discernment.

Bovard, William Sherman.

Flutes of Silence. Meditations on the Inwardness of Life. 16mo. $1.00.

The title suggests the chaste and beautiful quality of these meditations on the inwardness of life. The charm and value of this little book are enhanced by bits of choice original verse, in harmony with the theme.

Living Leaders Judged by Christian Standards. 16mo. 50c.

These addresses "bring several of the living leaders of the present-day thought and life to the test of Christian standards," and this is done in order to discern how nearly they measure up to what the author believes will be the final norm of judgment. The leaders brought forward for appraisal are Mahatma Gandhi, Clémenceau, Lenin, Coué, Lloyd George, and Einstein.

Man Who Was Too Busy to Find the Child, The. 12mo. Embossed cover, gilt top. 35c.

An unusual story, in conception and expression. The man who was too busy to seek the Christ child, and who looked for the first time upon the face of Christ as he hung upon the cross. Then there came to him the realization of all he had missed in life, and in bitterness of spirit he saw himself in his true light, narrow, selfish, and deformed. His transformation is beautifully described, and the "busy man" thereafter finds his greatest joy in serving others.

(See Ivory Series.)

Preparatory Lessons for Church Membership. 8vo. Paper. *25c.

This series of twelve lessons has been used with great success with preparatory classes by the author. Perhaps you find it hard to believe that a book about stewardship can be so fascinating as to keep one on the qui vive to know "what happens next." This is just what this book does.

Ganga Dass: A Tale of Hindustan. 18mo. 35c.

The tithe, delivered from legalism, has come back. In "Ganga Dass" the whole matter is placed in the field of fundamental doctrine rather than of church efficiency.

Man and His Money, A. A Study in Stewardship. 12mo. $1.00.

This book is a study in its fundamental aspects. The underlying principles are set forth in such logical fashion as to make it difficult for anyone to escape the grip of the author's conclusions. Here is no dry and technical discussion, but a human document of deep and compelling interest.

Stewardship Starting Points. 16mo. *50c.; by mail, 55c

An introduction to the subject of stewardship, it seeks to outline and open a popular study of the fundamentals.

Ten Weeks. The Journal of a Missionary. 16mo. 50c.

A transcript of Dr. Calkins's journal during a remarkable revival in Cawnpore, India, during which the modern Stewardship movement had its birth.

Victory of Mary Christopher, The. A Story of To-morrow. 16mo. *25c.; by mail, 30c. Special limp cloth edition, single sample copy, *15 cents, postpaid. In any quantity, *15 cents per copy, carriage additional.

A story emphasizing the duty and privilege of tithing.

12mo. Per volume, *$1.00 net; by mail, $1.10.

A series of delightful stories—just the thing for the girls around the camp fire or in the home. The books are not dressed-up rules of conduct for girls, but are simple, wholesome, and interesting stories of everyday girl life, written by experts on the teen age. Dealing as they do with the joys, recreations, and problems of the normal young girl, the books are at once highly attractive and very helpful.

Campbell, James M.

Life's Highest Loyalty. 12mo. $1.00.

A distinct contribution to educational evangelism, it deals with the central thought of the Christian faith in a simple, undogmatic and practical way that avoids everything of a sectarian or controversial nature.

Place of Prayer in the Christian Religion, The. 12mo. $1.75.

The treatment is most comprehensive, and the interpretations exceptionally fine. The high value and the supreme importance of prayer are indelibly stamped on every page.

Presence, The. 12mo. $1.50.

The author brings God out of the abstract, out even of nature, and shows him in the incarnation and in the present divine activities in this universe.

Second Coming of Christ, The. 16mo. 75c.

Has Christ come or is he yet to come? Have the Bible predictions been fulfilled or are they yet to be fulfilled? These are among the questions raised and answered by Dr. Campbell. The striking feature of the book is "A Catechism on the Second Coming of Christ."

Second Coming of Christ, The.—A Catechism. 10c.; per dozen, $1.00; fifty copies, $4.00; 100 copies, $7.50.

This catechism is a separate printing of a section of the author's book, "The Second Coming of Christ."

Religious illiteracy and the resulting loss of morality is the gravest danger now threatening the stability of American economic and political institutions. While planning to meet the moral and religious needs of the next generation, educators dare not neglect the present generation. An epidemic of moral anemia must now be stayed. Democracy is unsafe unless its citizens hold their power for the common good. The call is for Christianity to assume active leadership of and actually to dominate public opinion. The moral standards of the Government, that is, of the people, need to be purified—made worthy of divine sanction.

The CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP series has been planned to meet this emergency in our national life. There is need of common civic intelligence and loyalty to the highest American ideals. In each text the motives of religion and patriotism are fused.

Christ in High School Life. 12mo. $1.00.

The author declares that "this little book is the product of a great host of high-school boys," and he believes that these young people "need a handbook for daily devotions based on the application of the principles of Jesus to high-school problems."

Clark, Davis Wasgatt.

Child Labor and the Social Conscience. 12mo. Illustrated. $1.00.

One of the foulest blots on our national escutcheon is that of child labor. The author says that "the American conscience has been informed and quickened until it has finally and clearly discerned the essentially criminal character of Child Labor, has arrested and placed the culprit in the prisoner's dock and bidden him plead to the general charge of being an enemy-alien to the public welfare."

Clark, Muriel.

When Jesus Was a Carpenter. 12mo. 75c.

There was a strong band of sympathy, fellowship and understanding between the Carpenter and the Children. They became friends and companions, and then the circle expanded and enclosed the mother and the father of the children, and other friends. And all of them were entranced by the radiance of His Personality, the kindliness of His spirit, the sincerity of His sympathy, the nobility of His utterances and the clearness and aptness of their spiritual meaning.

The purpose of this course of lessons is the training of children, that under the leadership of Christ they may live their lives in the light of this new day. In the years to come great things will be required of the children of to-day, and they must meet the future as Christian citizens strong to serve. To impress the story teaching, activities are provided that are positive in their teaching and offer opportunities for "learning through doing." The songs and poems have been thoughtfully chosen from among the best, and with due regard for the child's interest and experience.

The rapid development of community schools of religious education has made necessary the creation of a special series of texts. No such school can do its best work without suitable text-books. This is particularly true of schools that have as their aim the training of teachers of religion. One of the most potent factors in making the class-room hour a time of enlightenment and of inspiration is a common rallying point of thinking on the part of both pupils and teachers—the assigned lesson in a trustworthy text.

The Abingdon series of Community Training School texts is being wrought out on the anvil of actual experience. In one instance, the material has actually been taught in five different community schools before being published. First-hand contact with a score of such schools is reflected in the editorial supervision. It is the hope of both writers and editors that these texts will do much to help local boards of religious education to standardize their training schools.

Crain, Orville E.

Credibility of the Virgin Birth, The. 16mo. 50c.

Between that Liberalism which contends that the virgin birth of Jesus amounts to nothing for the faith of the church, and that Conservatism which makes the item amount to everything that is evangelical, the author feels that there is a middle ground of importance which the claim for Jesus' unique origin has for the greater portion of Christian believers. A candid résumé indicates that the miracle can well be credited as a historical fact, and for that larger division of the Christian body which so accepts it, the article has various degrees of worth.

Crawford, Alexander W.

Germany's Moral Downfall. The Tragedy of Academic Materialism. 12mo. $1.50.

The war is over. On with the war! Many of the world's achievements have already been sacrificed to the Moloch of Kultur and its perfidious offspring, and the end is not yet. The task of the next generation is to uproot the cult of materialism that has insinuated itself into so many channels of national activity.

Crawford, Leonidas W.

Vocations Within the Church. Crown 8vo. *$1.00; by mail, $1.10.

Intuitively, somehow, thousands of young men and young women limit the vocations within the Church to the vocation of preaching. Would not then the baffling problem of the right vocational choice in a measure at least be more happily solved if some one clearly pointed out the wide range of vocational choice which the church, through its ministry of preaching, its ministry of education, its ministry of social service, its ministry of medicine, its ministry of publication as well as through other phases of ministry, offers? This Professor Crawford has endeavored to do.

Cunningham, Albert Benjamin.

Animal Tales of the Rockies. 12mo. Illustrated. $1.00.

The author of that classic, "Old Black Bass," turns his unmistakable talent for description of wild life to the Rocky Mountains. In this book, which fastens upon the interest relentlessly, he tells us about The Prowler, The Barbarian, The Lark, The Cougars, Ursus The Terrible, and relates the Story of Pink and Tom. All these are denizens of the mountains and each lives its own life in its own way; but no essential factor of the individual animal's life has escaped the attention of the author, who, in these chapters gives us thrilling closeups of their activities in the freedom of their mountain domain.

Chronicle of an Old Town, The. A Novel. 12mo. $1.75.

As one reads this easy and delightful chronicle it is as though Hawthorne had come back, and sauntered with us through the old town, making us acquainted with its interesting folks and ways.

Old Black Bass. 12mo. Illustrated. $1.00.

The author tells of Old Black Bass as he has seen him on dusky evenings when the whippoorwill calls. Old Black Bass was the leader of his school. He was big of body, aggressive of spirit, and bold. With him was cleverness, in eluding the canniest angler and his life knew both sorrow and joy, love and bitterness.

THOMPSON, JAMES V. (WITH JOHN E. STOUT.) Daily Vacation Church School, The. *75c.; by mail, 85c.

The DAILY VACATION CHURCH SCHOOL of religion has passed the experimental stage. Probably more than two thousand churches and communities have found in the long summer months free from the demands of public school, an opportunity for supplementing the child's instruction and making fruitful use of his leisure time. Interesting programs are being developed, trained instructors employed, and the best of the church's equipment devoted to these schools. Parents approve them, the children are enthusiastic over them, ministers count them one of the best agencies for the religious training of the young.

A vast expansion of the movement already so auspiciously begun awaits only the standardizing of a DAILY VACATION CHURCH SCHOOL program and the organizing of text books for their special needs. It is the purpose of the volumes of the present series to minister to this pressing need.

Christian Neighborliness. An Elective Course for Young People. 12mo. *75c.; by mail, 82c.

This book deals with the most immediate contacts with our nearest neighbors, seeking to meet in a Christian way the problems involved in our ever widening social life. Its theory is that if we can find our way through the pressing problems of our every-day life as we stand shoulder to shoulder or come face to face with one another, we shall ultimately be able to find the answer to every phase of the problem of how people may be able to live together in a Christian manner and to build a friendly neighborhood that shall have no other bounds.

Modernism and the Christian Faith. Crown 8vo. $2.75.

How do those doctrines of the Christian religion which have been the storm-center of debate, which have seemed the most offensive to certain modern men, and which have therefore been either opposed or ignored by many even in so-called orthodox churches—how do these fundamental teachings stand in the light of history, of reason, and of Scripture? This is the question which Professor Faulkner answers with his well-known love of truth and frank facing of difficulties.

On the Value of Church History. 16mo. Paper. 30c.

It is the aim of the present little book to tell some of the fascinations of Church History, its immense and vital value to clergymen and to all laymen interested in religion.

Meaning of Faith, The. An "Everyday Life" Book. 16mo. $1.35.

The author's purpose in these twelve studies is to clear away the misapprehensions involved in the commonly accepted theories of faith, to indicate the relationship of faith to other aspects of life, to face frankly the serious question of suffering as an obstacle of faith, and to expound the vital significance of faith in Jesus Christ.

Meaning of Prayer, The. 16mo. $1.15.

The light of Scripture and experience thrown on the great question of God's attitude toward us and our needs.

Meaning of Service, The. 16mo. $1.25.

This book has been written at a time when its theme is most congenial with the crucial need of the world and the dominant mood of thoughtful folk. The overturn of human society in the Great War has inevitably brought to the top those elements of Christian life and thought which center about service.

Personalidad del Divino Maestro, La. 16mo. *$1.15. Paper. *75c.

Bible as Literature, The. Crown 8vo. $2.50.

The book is for the use of undergraduate classes in colleges, and is so arranged that it may be used by classes covering the whole Bible in a year, or by those who wish to take only the great masterpieces of biblical literature. It will not take the place of the Bible for study.

(See Bible Study Text Books.)

Grant, Frederick C.

Early Days of Christianity, The. (Age 14: Grade IX.) Crown 8vo. Illustrated. Maps. *$1.40; by mail, $1.55. Teacher's Manual. $1.25; by mail, $1.35.

Although an independent work, the present volume forms a sequel to The Life and Times of Jesus. Together they provide an elementary outline of the rise of the Christian religion, from the birth, ministry, and passion of Jesus to the triumph of Christianity under Constantine. Their aim is to enable the pupil to realize vividly the historical facts and personalities, and to appreciate the chief factors in this immensely important development.

Life and Times of Jesus, The. (Age 14: Grade IX.) Crown 8vo. *$1.00; by mail, $1.10. Teacher's Manual. Crown 8vo. *$1.00; by mail, $1.10.

This volume seeks to present the Life of Jesus in such form as will appeal religiously and educationally to youth of thirteen or fourteen years. The method employed has been largely the narrative, though the teachings of Jesus have been held quite constantly in the foreground.

(See Abingdon Religious Education Texts.)

Granville: Tales and Tail Spins from a Flyer's Diary.

(AUTHOR UNNAMED.) 12mo. Illustrated. $1.25.

This unique book tells the story of the making of a soldier in one branch of the service, and gives an uncolored, intimate account of the experiences and thoughts of one of the youth who helped to win the war over here. It is edited from his diary and, in deference to the wishes of the family, is published anonymously.

Gray, Charlotte E.

Inn By the Sea, The. 12mo. $1.75.

The story emphasizes the value of life's ordinary stations, duties, and opportunities. The plot has to do with a case of mistaken identity, which naturally causes confusion, suspicion, and misunderstanding. The climax comes when the girls are brought together and it transpires that they are twins.

KELLEY, WILLIAM VALENTINE. $1.50.

Gray, Joseph M. M.

Adventure in Orthodoxy, An. 12mo. $1.00.

This volume, Bishop Hughes says, comes to the Kingdom for this very time. Choice and clear in its English; simple and direct in its rhetoric; sincere and piercing in its thinking; kindly and discriminating in its criticism; its chief characteristic is that in a period of confused theology the volume champions the real and deep things.

Contemporary Christ, The. 12mo. $2.00.

A group of sermons in which the claims, character, conduct, and teaching of Jesus are strongly emphasized. While not prepared for serial presentation, "there runs through them all a continuity of thought and feeling." These sermons not only exalt the Christ, but the reading of them will strengthen and sustain the Christian disciple.

Old Faith in the New Day, The. 12mo. $1.25.

An unusual treatment of a vital subject, showing the true plan and work of the Church in the modern day. The style is original, the reasoning clear and forceful, and the effect cumulative and convincing.

Sufficient Ministers. 12mo. $1.00.

These lectures should attract the attention of pastors and preachers everywhere. They are more than abstract statements of principles; they are leaves out of the book of life of a successful minister who knows whereof he speaks.

The author "knows Europe at first hand and sees it with impartial yet sympathetic eyes." His book is the product of personal contacts, observations and study of the European problem during three extended post-war tours in various European countries, including Russia.

Revolt of Youth, The. 12mo. Illustrated. $1.00.

Having had unusual opportunity for wide observation the author discovers many forces at work in this disordered world that are positively for reconstruction. He asserts that the pessimists have had their day—and say, and that among the constructive forces now at work for the redemption of civilization "perhaps the most significant is the spirit of the world's youth, who in the face of difficulty and repeated disillusionment are carrying on, in school and out, toward a better day in which youth still believes."

Christian Ideals in Industry. 12mo. *75c.; by mail, 82c.

In this endeavor to interpret Christian ideals in their relation to industry, young people's classes in the Churches have been kept in mind by the authors. They say that there is no one set of correct answers to the questions they bring forward for discussion, since "the working life of the world is so complex that it cannot be dealt with arbitrarily or treated dogmatically. The Christian ideal for industry cannot be once for all prescribed; it must be worked out."

Beyond the Moon Gate. Being the Diary of Twelve Years in the Interior of the Middle Kingdom. 12mo. Illustrated. $1.25.

This very interesting book is more than a diary. It is a leaf out of the story of China itself—young China and Old—China of the coolie and the scholar, the beggar and the official; it is the China hidden from the tourist; it is China behind the shelter of the gate closed to curious eyes, where Chinese ladies serve rare feasts and reveal their secrets to "Little Sister Han."

Travels of Kim and Chin Chu—Korean Twins, The. (With paper doll cut-outs.) Illustrated. 50c.

Here at last is an opportunity for our children to learn about the children of the world at first hand. There are paper doll cut-outs drawn by Anne Laura Archibald. These are made in correct colorings and are on stiff paper all ready for the scissors.

Travels of Mona and Mani—Indian Twins, The. (With paper doll cut-outs.) Illustrated. 50c.

The dolls are colored in vivid and authentic colors. The stories of Mona and Mani take the twins to many parts of India where they learn much about their own high caste and about the Christian Sahib who comes among them to help them.

Travels of Tan and Taro—Japanese Twins, The. (With paper doll cut-outs.) Illustrated. 50c.

These Japanese twins are not only lovable themselves but introduce us to many people from their country. There are sixteen dolls in true colors ready to be cut out.

Travels of Wen Chi and Wen Bao, The—Chinese Twins. (With paper doll cut-outs.) Illustrated. 50c.

These delightful cutouts will win the attention of the children by their fine and accurate coloring, and they will help to instruct the little folks also in the life and customs of the Chinese people.

RALL, HARRIS FRANKLIN. $1.50.

Hopkins, Isabella Pierpont.

Wingtown Parson's Linen Duster, The. 16mo. 75c.

A story of missionary effort in the Far West.

Horne, Herman Harrell.

Christ in Man-Making. 16mo. Illustrated. 50c.

The author sets forth his viewpoint in these words: Some people believe the big thing in life is heredity; others believe it is environment; still others believe it is the individual himself; and still others believe it is the Christian dynamic, and he endeavors to relate these four great and good things to each other.

Horne, Herman Harrell—(Cont'd).

Jesus—Our Standard. 12mo. $2.00.

A portrayal of Jesus as the ideal standard for human character and achievement. In this study Professor Horne applies the most exacting tests—Physical, Intellectual, Emotional, and Spiritual. The reactions are the best. Jesus is Standard. A rare book this, for the general reader or for study classes.

Horton, Douglas.

Out Into Life. (Age 17: Grade XII.) Crown 8vo. *$1.25; by mail, $1.35.

This book lies on the borderland between the literature of vocational guidance and Christian ethics. It is designed to meet the needs of young men at the time they are forming their practical philosophy of life. What they decide to-day the world will largely accept as authority to-morrow. These young men hold the key to the Christianization of the social order.

(See Abingdon Religious Education Texts.)

Horton, Isabella.

Ted of McCorkle's Alley. 12mo. 75c.

This little story, simply and sweetly told, lets in a flood of light upon social conditions as they affect children. There is no cant in the story—it is a telling portrayal of response to loving endeavor and right influence.

Hough, Lynn Harold.

(See Men of the Kingdom.)

Clean Sword, The. 12mo. $1.50.

What is the relation of the war to reconstruction? How does a soldier become a builder? Can the war be made a highway to permanent peace? How is the new world to be made from the material of the old? Such questions are lifted and answered in a fashion which has far-reaching significance.

Evangelical Humanism. 12mo. $1.50.

This is the Fernley Lecture delivered in 1925 before the Wesleyan Methodist Conference at its session at Lincoln, England.

(See Fernley Lectures.)

Eyes of Faith, The. 12mo. $1.50.

A keen and critical putting of the relation of experience to present-day problems of philosophy and religion.

Flying Over London and Other Verse. 16mo. Boards. 50c.

The facile genius of Dr. Hough flashes in every line of these poems born of the world war. At the urgent request of many these verses are here reproduced in permanent form.

In the Valley of Decision. 16mo. 75c.

An admirable book for young people in the "teen" years. The purpose of the book is to encourage wise life decisions, and to set forth the motive, method, and outcome of such decisions.

Inevitable Book, The. 12mo. $1.25.

A series of stories of the fashion in which men and women from the most varied groups met the time of crisis in their lives. The stories show how that Book lives again in lives made different by its presence.

Little Book of Sermons, A. 12mo. $1.25.

These sermons were preached for the most part to Dr. Hough's own congregation at Central Church, Detroit, although several of them were delivered on special occasions, as for instance, the sermon on "The Ampler Puritanism," which was proclaimed at the Pilgrim Tercentenary, at Plymouth, England, in the summer of 1920.

Little Old Lady, The. 12mo. 75c.

This "little old lady," loved and trusted by all sorts of people, becomes a friendly "first aid" in all the perplexities and troubles confided to her. With keen insight, wide knowledge, and out of the heart of love she gives to each one just the comfort, advice, reproof, or inspiration needed, the whole resolving itself into an unusually charming and helpful interpretation of life and its problems.

Lure of Books, The. 12mo. Embossed paper cover. 35c.

"The Lure of Books" is the story of an evening spent with a man of ripe and mellow culture, an eager lover of books who delights to talk about them.

(See Ivory Series.)

Man of Power, The. Studies in Christian Efficiency. 16mo. $1.00.

Twelve brief and graphic sketches of the characteristics of the efficient life. There is an interesting and vital treatment of such subjects as Mind, Conscience, Will, and Emotion; a discussion of social and professional efficiency; and a chapter each on the efficient churchman and the efficient citizen.

Men of the Gospels, The. 16mo. 75c.

This is a book of character sketches of men whose names and works are recorded in the gospels. Among those sketched are Herod, Antipas, The Centurion, The Heroic Doubter, Pilate, etc. The characters are etched rather than described. They stand out in bold relief. The moral values are strongly emphasized.

Opinions of John Clearfield, The. 12mo. $1.25.

John Clearfield is a person of unusual intellectual virility, vivacity and vision. He has "opinions" on a large variety of matters outside of his own particular and professional line of thinking. He is a magnetic center of true culture and one feels the uplift of his presence at once upon coming within the sphere of his influence.

Productive Beliefs. 12mo. $1.50.

In this lecture course Dr. Hough sets himself the task of finding out what sort of religious beliefs there are which, by their practical, productive results, will justify endorsement and adoption. All of his conclusions are brought sharply and firmly into the realm of human experience, and form a spirited apologetic for a reasonable and eminently workable body of Christian belief.

(See Cole Lectures.)

Quest for Wonder, The, and Other Philosophical and Theological Studies. 12mo. $1.50.

A volume robust and gripping in style, with a challenge in thought that catches and holds the attention. We have here in large measure the intensity of spirit, the virility and vividness of epigram and expression so characteristic of this author.

Hough, Lynn Harold—(Continued).

Significance of the Protestant Reformation, The. A Series of Lectures Delivered in Connection with the Observance of the Four Hundredth Anniversary of the Posting of the Theses by Luther. 16mo. 75c.

Especially opportune is this little book, appearing as it does during the anniversary era of the Reformation. The discussion is concise and illuminating and of absorbing interest, bearing all the marks of its virile and versatile author.

Synthetic Christianity. 12mo. $1.50.

In these lectures upon the Merrick Foundation of Ohio Wesleyan University Dr. Hough raises and discusses with marked facility and ability certain fundamental questions that relate to the Christian teaching as it finds expression in terms of truth, goodness, beauty, brotherhood and godliness.

(See Merrick Lectures.)

Theology of a Preacher, The. 12mo. $1.50.

Here we have a book which unites the passion of a preacher, the style of a man of deep interest in literature, and the conception which came out of years of study of the fundamentals of the Christian faith.

Twelve Merry Fishermen. 12mo. $1.00.

Dr. Hough has had the advantages of membership in various ministerial clubs and "doubtless all of these clubs have had a share in creating the atmosphere of the circle called the Twelve Merry Fishermen." He gives one a glimpse of the intellectual and personal characteristics of the group, and takes the opportunity offered by their monthly assembly to discuss a variety of topics dealing with the present social, literary, political, ecclesiastical, racial and intellectual condition of the world.

Bible and Life, The. 12mo. $1.50.

The reader of these lectures will necessarily feel that the Bible is a real book for real life. Old as it is, it is yet modern and can never be outworn because it is the product of life, appeals to life, and is tested by life.

(See Mendenhall Lectures.)

Boy's Religion, A. 16mo. 75c.

An analysis of the characteristics of a true boy; a clear setting forth of the evangelistic opportunity of the home, and a careful discussion of the opportunity, responsibility, and privilege of the pastor and the teacher.

God's Family. 12mo. $1.25.

In these lectures the author exhibits no ambition to appear in the rôle of the technical theologian. He speaks, however, out of clear and well-seasoned convictions, one of which being that "the informing and pervasive and persuasive principle of the final theology must be found in the teaching of Jesus about the Father." He admonishes the seeker of theological dogmatics that he will be disappointed in what he discovers in this volume, while the author hopes that the seeker after God himself as revealed in our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ will find in it a light for his pathway.

Hutchinson, Paul.

Next Step, The. 16mo. 75c.

This is a discussion of the problem that has the Central Mission Conference at its heart. The author claims that "it is time that our entire denomination knew that the major administrative problem with which we are confronted is that of determining our policy toward the portions of our body that are growing with such rapidity outside the borders of the United States."

Spread of Christianity, The. (Age 16: Grade XI.) Crown 8vo. Illustrated. *$1.25; by mail, $1.35.

The reason for a new text, the author states, in view of the adequate volumes that already exist, is the hope of winning the interest of a new group—in this case, pupils in the eleventh grade of the American school. The attempt has been to throw into bold relief the significant developments in Christian history since the days of Constantine.

Christian Ideals in Industry. 12mo. *75c.; by mail, 82c.

In this endeavor to interpret Christian ideals in their relation to industry, young people's classes in the Churches have been kept in mind by the authors. They say that there is no one set of correct answers to the questions they bring forward for discussion, since "the working life of the world is so complex that it cannot be dealt with arbitrarily or treated dogmatically. The Christian ideal for industry cannot be once for all prescribed; it must be worked out.

Kavanagh, Abram S.

Methodism Rediscovering Itself. With an Introduction by BISHOP LUTHER B. WILSON. 16mo. 50c.

The book aims to show that Methodism's recovery of her power depends upon the acceptance and application of two principles which for some time have been overlooked, namely: 1. The Place of Philanthropic Work in Vital Religion. 2. The Personal Method in Evangelism.

Kavanagh, Abram S.—(Continued).

Minister's Twin Six, The. 16mo. Paper, 15c. per copy; $10.00 per hundred.

A discussion of some important phases of our life and work as a church in which Methodists—preachers and laymen everywhere—are deeply interested. It will answer "important and far-reaching questions concerning the policy of the church, the relationship and inter-relationship of the bishops, district superintendents, pastors, trustees, stewards, Sunday school officers, and the officials of the various women's societies, men's societies, Leagues, and so forth.

Christian Conquest of America, The. A Course of Twelve Lessons on Home Missions. 8vo. Paper. *15c.; per dozen, *$1.50; per hundred, *$10.00. Carriage additional.

A modern study of Methodist Episcopal Home Missions with the historical background used to emphasize the opportunity and obligation of the church of to-day, written in a style which interests, convinces and challenges to the task set for to-morrow.

(With David D. Forsyth.)

Christian Democracy for America. 8vo. Illustrated with Maps and Charts. *75c.; paper, *50c.

Deals with Our Modern Frontier, gives emphasis to the fact that the Church is a live and pressing problem, while The Rural Church presents the need of training a rural ministry and of a thoroughgoing rural church program; also vividly portrays the different types of immigration together with the barriers which keep the immigrant from the influence of Americanization, and outlines Methodism's Program for the City and the opportunity and duty of the church.

Keesey, Wilbur R.

Six Modern Devils. 16mo. 75c.

Treats upon some of the great evils of the day, such as Bad Literature, the Liquor Traffic, Gambling Habit, the Gossip Evil, the Pleasure Problem, and the Greed for Gold.

Kelley, William Valentine.

Down the Road, and Other Essays of Nature, Life, Literature, and Religion. Crown 8vo. $2.25.

A volume of essays, ranging through many realms, dealing with many subjects, and looking in various directions through Nature, and Life, and Literature, and Art, and Religion.

Kelley, William Valentine —(Continued).

Illumined Face, The. 16mo. 35c.

The author claims first that the face is an exponent of character, revealing the mind and heart; second, that in a measure one can make his own face; third, that the illumined face is the manifestation and emblem of humanity at its highest.

(See Modern Messages.)

My Gray Gull, and Other Essays. Crown 8vo. $1.50.

Dr. Kelley holds an unchallenged place among the great essayists of the modern day. He has enriched our literature through two generations and now full of years, ripe in wisdom, rich in scholarship, clear in philosophy, fixed in faith and broad and definitive in understanding and interpretation, he gives forth this volume of noble fruitage. He says that in selecting the material for this group of essays he has aimed at diversity of subject mood and at atmosphere rather than uniformity of quality, and then he remarks: "Contemplating the possibility that this may be the author's final volume, he sees in it, as in his previous books, nothing that demands retraction or apology."

Open Fire and Other Essays, The. Crown 8vo. $2.00.

This group of charming and gripping essays constitutes one of the rich and scholarly contributions of William Valentine Kelley to some of the vital discussions of this generation. No more penetrative or appreciative mind has applied itself in our day to the consideration of the sources, influences and products of literature and religion in their reactions upon life, character and civilization.

Pilgrim of the Infinite, A. 12mo. 75c.

An argument for personal immortality. Beautiful in style, attractive in treatment, cogent in its reasoning, and compelling in appeal. A privileged look into the wonderful depths of a singularly pure and up-reaching thought life. A deep draught of refreshing and soul-staying Philosophy.

Ripening Experience of Life, and Other Essays, The. Crown 8vo. $2.25.

In these essays the author's clarity of judgment, inspiration, and sympathy for all things which make for the best in thought and conduct find fitting expression.

Salute to the Valiant, A. Foreword by Bishop Homer C. Stuntz. 12mo. 75c.

This beautiful tribute to a beautiful and heroic life is also a memorial to all who in all ages valiantly suffer and bravely die.

Trees and Men. 12mo. Embossed paper cover. 35c.

In the veins of most men and women there is a drop or two of the blood of the Druids—the old tree worshipers. In the opinion of many the human feeling toward, and delight in, trees has never been so delicately, and fondly, and amply expressed as in this unique treatment of the subject.

(See Ivory Series.)

With the Children In Lewis Carroll's Company. 12mo. 75c.

Following in the company of Lewis Carroll the author unfolds for all who have eyes to see, ears to hear, and hearts to feel the surpassing beauty and worth of the childhood years. It is a wonderfully luminous showing forth of the opportunities the child offers to the Home, the Church, and the World.

Kelman, John.

Some Aspects of International Christianity. 12mo. $1.00.

"There are questions of the most vital importance on which every man must form an opinion. The bearings of these questions are not confined to the regions of expert knowledge; and there is a place for the impressions of the man on the street—his general sense of moral values, his common-sense view of relative importances, and the free play of his conscience upon the questions of the hour as he understands them. It is in his name and from his point of view that I have prepared these lectures."—Author's preface.

Keppel, David.

Book of Revelation Not a Mystery, The. 16mo. 75c.

A brief, graphic, and deeply interesting interpretation of the Book of Revelation. The author brings to his task both adequate scholarship and thorough sanity. A most wholesome and timely book for all who would understand the relation of the Apocalypse to the present world crisis.

Keppel, David—(Continued).

That Ye May Believe. The Argument of St. John's Gospel. 16mo. 60c.

Dr. Keppel's intimate and scholarly study of the Gospel of John will interest and illuminate many readers. He gives attention to the substance of the book, but special consideration to the object of this gospel, which he discovers embodied in these words: "These things are written, that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye may have life through his name."

That Ye May Know. The Question, How May I Know That I Have Eternal Life? Answered from the First Epistle of St. John. 16mo. 50c.

In straightforward language the author discusses in a conclusive way the teaching on this fundamental phase of Christian experience.

Present Tendencies in Religious Thought. 12mo. $2.00.
These lectures are partly historical and partly critical. They aim to give a general survey of the modern thought world in its relation to religion and to show how Christianity has been and is adjusting itself to its new environment. The field is a broad one, and the treatment necessarily general. Chief attention is devoted to what may be called the crucial question of our day, the question of the truth of religion.
(See Mendenhall Lectures)

Prophetic Movement in Israel, The. 16mo. $1.00.
In this book, prepared primarily for use of study classes of Sunday school teachers in training, we have an admirable survey of the prophetic movement. The book will render an important service as an introduction to an intensive study of the prophets and their writings.

Religious Teaching of the Old Testament, The. Crown 8vo. $3.00.
Just what does the Old Testament teach regarding God, Man, Redemption, and the Future Life? To answer these questions is the aim of this book. With Professor Knudson as guide one sees the beginnings, the growth, and the final form of the religious thinking of the Hebrew race. An invaluable volume for all who would understand the Old Testament and its spiritual message.

Civil Law and the Church, The. 8vo. $7.50.

The author has sought to gather in one volume the principal judicial decisions rendered by the courts of Great Britain, Canada, and the United States, in which have been considered questions relating to distinctively religious matters. The book embodies the result of an extensive study of the decisions which are now scattered through a large number of reports of cases, and digests, and which are here placed in a form convenient for immediate reference, and under conditions which make them available for easy use.

Edited by DOROTHY DONNELL CALHOUN. The books are attractively illustrated. Well bound. 16mo. Per volume, 50c.

—Little Folks from Literature. 4 vols.
Here we have the stories of children as they appear in the best literature, not random selections from the classics, but the child parts of famous novels, essays, and poems, taken word for word from the originals.

—Little Folks in Art. 4 vols.
Most of the pictures are historical, and the author has told the stories of the pictures in a skillful and fascinating way, in language which is sure to attract the child.

—Little Folks of the Bible. 4 vols.
Book I. Boys in Patriarchal Homes. Isaac, Ishmael, Joseph, Benjamin.
Book II. Boys in the Days of the Prophets. David, Samuel, Daniel, The Shunammite's Son.
Book III. Girls of the Bible. The Story of Miriam, Jephthah's Daughter, The Captive Maid, Jairus's Daughter.
Book IV. Boys of the New Testament. The Boyhood of Jesus, The Lad with the Loaves, John the Baptist, Paul's Nephew.
A series written expressly for children. These stories of the Little Folks of the Bible, of Literature, Art, and History are told in simple language and with a wealth of picturesque local color and detail.

Amos, Prophet of a New Order. 12mo. *75c.; by mail, 82c.

A textbook study of Amos in thirteen lessons for adult Bible classes and teacher-training groups. The author has sought in this book to answer the questions: (1) How far do the subjects discussed by Amos concern us to-day? and (2) How far do his words apply to present-day conditions? The studies do not follow mechanically the order of the book, but each chapter deals with various sayings of the prophet bearing on the same subject.

Deuteronomy: a Prophetic Law Book. 12mo. *75c; by mail, 82c.

Emphasis is placed in this study of this ancient law volume upon its prophetic spirit and the relation of its teachings to present day problems and civilization.

(See Life and Service Series.)

Prophet of the Spirit, A. A Sketch of the Character and Work of Jeremiah. Revised Edition. 12mo. $1.00.

A welcome and timely study of Jeremiah, the too little understood man and prophet. The book emphasizes in a clear and convincing way the spirituality of Jeremiah's message, and shows that a true prophet receives his impetus from direct communion with the Divine Spirit.

Fares, Please! And Other Essays on Practical Themes. 12mo. $1.25.

There is about these essays a uniqueness of conception and an originality of style at once refreshing and stimulating, vigorous and versatile. Timely, practical, and rich in ethical and spiritual suggestions.

Haunted House, The. 12mo. $1.50.

These are sermons of unusual interest, strikingly original in theme and treatment. Modern in spirit, they treat timely, vital subjects with a sure insight, humor and fertility of imagination.

New Map of the World. A Course of Twelve Lessons for Adult Bible Classes. 8vo. Paper. *15c.; per dozen, *$1.50; per hundred, *$10.00. Carriage additional.

The world's map is undergoing repairs. The Peace Conference made decisions affecting the destiny of every continent. This course of twelve lessons is a timely discussion of the effect which the shattering changes of the war and peace settlement are having on the world-wide kingdom of God. Epigrammatic and entertaining in style.

Skylines. 12mo. $1.25.

Sprightly essays on themes connected more or less with religion. They are fresh and unconventional, and are treated with originality, humor and imagination.

Studies in the Parables of Jesus. 12mo. *75c.; by mail, 82c.

In stimulating discourse the writer puts before us the central message of each parable, and by discussion and pertinent questions leads the reader to apply it to his own living.

MacAdam, George.

Harps of God and the Chords They Play, The. 12mo. 75c.

The author with delicacy and skill leads up to the thought of the Human Life as the Harp of God; dwells upon the Harp in Tune, with the divine harpist touching the chords of life; and discusses the melody of the Life Harp, particularly the chord of Sympathy and the Martial Chord.

MacAdam, George—(Continued).

Mary the Mother and All Mothers. Illustrated. 12mo. $1.50.

In this sympathetic study of Mary the Mother of Jesus Dr. MacAdam brings forward the results of careful research. He exalts Mary as the supreme type—the crown of motherhood and womanhood. He pays high tribute also to other mothers, to the sacred duties of motherhood, the dignity and sanctity of the home, and has produced a volume that relates to "holy lands and all lands," and may be read profitably "on holy days and all days."

Mahoney, C. K.

Philosophy of Prayer, The. 12mo. $1.00.

Philosophy undertakes to explain the facts of existence. These facts are the facts of experience, in the widest sense of the term, and the facts of necessary inference deduced from the premises furnished by experience.

Social Evolution and the Development of Religion. Introduction by W. J. Thompson. 12mo. $1.25.

This book learnedly, clearly, and truthfully sets forth basic principles. He who understands, accepts, and proceeds upon them will impart a larger knowledge of the world that is above him, and make effective strokes in transforming the world around him into one whose governments are righteous, whose industries are just, and whose social order is Christlike.

Mains, George P.

Christianity and the New Age. Crown 8vo. $2.50.

The volume is an interpretation of the modern movement in the social, industrial, and religious realms. The sweep of its thought is cyclopedic and the range of illustration and analysis compasses the intellectual and moral movements of the age.

Francis Asbury. 16mo. Illustrated. 35c.

(See Makers of Methodism.)

James Monroe Buckley. Crown 8vo. Illustrated. $2.00.

For fifty years James Monroe Buckley was the outstanding man in Methodism, and for at least thirty years was the acknowledged leader in its councils. The author has sketched the sources and secrets of his power sympathetically and surely, and has given graphic and picturesque portrayal of the life and activities of this leader of Modern Methodism.

Life's Westward Windows. 12mo. $1.50.

The five essays contained in this vigorous and vital volume are "chapters in a mental biography." The themes indicate the locality and range of the author's thinking, as their development reveals "its rich quality." Dr. Mains declares that it must not be assumed that "these essays utter any all-around finality of thought concerning the questions discussed," even though the matters "with which they chiefly deal belong to a transcendent and ever-expanding world of thought." The essays are a sign and product of an inquiring mind that is suffused with the profoundest reverence for the things of the spirit, and is earnest and persistent in its quest for truth.

Premillennialism. Non-Scriptural, Non-Scientific, Non-Historical, Non-Philosophical. 16mo. $1.00.

A terse and trenchant critique of premillennial claims. It will be difficult for the advocates of this aggressive cult to confute the reasoning of these logical and close knit arguments.

Religious Experience: Its Evidential Value. 12mo. $1.50.

A thoroughly evangelical and constructive study of the Sources and Evidential Value of Religious Experience, with the emphasis upon the affirmations of Christian Experience, and an unusually helpful chapter on Conversion.

United States Citizenship. 12mo. $2.00.

In this volume the author, a careful student of the signs of the times and a skillful interpreter of them, discusses "fundamentally and informingly some of the larger relations of the citizen to his government," with due emphasis upon "the supreme need and imperative importance of intelligent and loyal suffrage." It is the kind of book that will improve the quality of American citizenship wherever it is read and studied.

Youth of America, The. Paper, *50c.; cloth, *75c.

In six virile chapters the author discusses certain matters that are vitally related to the youth of our land and to the perpetuity of our national life. He considers our young people in connection with the family, education, physical efficiency, employment, citizenship and religion. The great appeal of the volume is made to the youth, but it reaches also with the impact of its intense earnestness, its unassailable facts and its sound conclusions, the parents of the youth who are charged with the fashioning of the characters, and the inspiration of their careers.

May, William J.

Baptism of Children, The. 16mo. Frontispiece. Includes baptismal certificate. Paper, *25c.; cloth, *40c.

In this thoughtful discussion of the baptism of children the author gives, first, his reasons for baptism; then, second, the blessings of baptism; then, third, the responsibilities of baptism; and finally, he presents our helpers in baptism.

Mayflower Pilgrims, The.

CARPENTER, EDMUND J. $2.00.

McCall, Oswald W. S.

Cardinals of Faith. Brief Studies for a Time of Groping. 12mo. $1.50.

These discourses, "reverent and courageous ventures in the realm of religious truth," deal with matters that are fundamental to a sound Christian faith. They do not pretend to do much more than to glance at certain great truths of religion, but the reading of the brief chapters will "leave the Eternal Things at least a little larger, a little dearer, and life a little holier."

McConnell, Bishop Francis J.

Christian Citizenship. An Elective Course for Young People. 12mo. *75c.; by mail, 82c.

This volume belongs to the series of Studies in Christian Living, and is an elective course for young people, having the approval of the Committee on Curriculum of the Board of Sunday Schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

(See Studies in Christian Living.)

McConnell, Bishop Francis J. —(Continued).

Diviner Immanence, The. 12mo. $1.00.

An essay dealing with some popular misunderstandings on the doctrine of the divine immanence.

Essentials of Methodism, The. 16mo. 75c.

A strong, helpful, and convincing discussion of such Methodist fundamentals as Conversion, Sanctification, Christian Nurture, and the Witness of the Spirit. It will help clear away the confusion existing in many minds with respect to the things upon which Methodism lays most emphasis.

Increase of Faith, The: Some Present-Day Aids to Belief. 12mo. $1.50.

The author with his penetrative mind has bored into a great central and ruling principle, which dictates his message to our day. In its application this principle deals with all phases of life and thought and presents a vision of good times, great men, and a conquering God.

(See Merrick Lectures.)

Is God Limited? 12mo. $2.00.

In discussing the question raised in the title of this volume Bishop McConnell regards the problem as falling naturally into three parts: Are there limitations for God in the creation and carrying forward of the material universe? Are there limitations for him in the creation of and in the relation to men? Are there limitations in the very fact that we conceive of God as a person? And then, he asks "If there are such limitations, how are we to conceive of them so as to preserve the moral and spiritual values which are the glory of the Christian ideal of God?

Just Weight, The, and Other Chapel Addresses. 16mo. $1.00.

For over twenty years Bishop McConnell has been speaking more or less regularly in college chapels. In this volume he has assembled some of the addresses delivered before college audiences. The discourses are short, pithy and practical, and deal in a helpful fashion with many phases of life that are of the deepest interest to college students and to people generally.

Living Together. Studies in the Ministry of Reconciliation. 12mo. $1.75.

These addresses deal with the presupposition necessary to any real reconciliation of differing social classes. They consider the Christian basis on which religious, industrial, national, and racial groups can be brought to mutual understanding and sympathy.

(See New Era Lectures.)

Preacher and the People, The. 12mo. $1.00.

Bishop McConnell has restricted the range of these lectures so that they deal only with the minister as a preacher. It is, therefore, an intensive rather than an extensive discussion. It is essentially a book for the younger men in the ministry, although it contains much that will prove profitable to those of larger and wider experience.

(See Simpson Lectures.)

Public Opinion and Theology. 12mo. $1.50.

The twelve lectures bring forward a cycle of thought exceedingly apropos to the present-day relations between Christian teachings and the general consensus among intellectual and practical minds concerning these teachings.

(See Earl Lectures.)

Understanding the Scriptures. 12mo. $1.00.

The subject matter of these lectures on the Mendenhall Foundation is clearly indicated in the chapter topics, to wit: The Book of Life, The Book of Humanity, The Book of God, The Book of Christ, and The Book of the Cross.

(See Mendenhall Lectures.)

McCormick, Charles W.

Heart of Prayer, The. 12mo. Embossed paper cover. 35c.

This is a sympathetic and valuable prayer study. Its theme is the adjustment of the individual to God in prayer.

McDowell, Bishop William Fraser.

Good Ministers of Jesus Christ. 12mo. $1.00.

The author's well-known literary style, with his unusual power of felicitous illustration and his clear and keen spiritual insight, guarantees a volume of surpassing worth to the preacher.

(See Beecher Lectures.)

In the School of Christ. 12mo. $1.00.

Some vital phases of the present opportunity and task of the Christian ministry. Central in this, as in the preceding series, is the personality of the Master of the school.

(See Cole Lectures.)

Making a Personal Faith. 16mo. $1.00.

These lectures deal with matters that are vital to Christian character and experience. They are "an attempt to help men and women to find their own way to Jesus Christ, and to make their own faith in him for their large service in their lifetime."

(See Merrick Lectures.)

Man's Religion, A. Letters to Men. 16mo. $1.00. Leather. Slip case. $2.00.

A book that speaks out man fashion from the heart of a man. Such themes as "A Religious Man in Modern Society," "A Modern Man's Bible," "A Man's Religious Experience," and "A Man's Activities," are sure to claim attention. The style is crisp, clear, and challenging. The age-old truth is here in modern setting.

McDowell, Bishop William Fraser (Continued).

This Mind. 16mo. $1.00.

In these lectures, delivered by Bishop McDowell under the Mendenhall Foundation at DePauw University, the author states some of the principles which should govern young people facing their life decisions and life work.

(See Mendenhall Lectures.)

McEntire, Ralph N.

Sunday School Secretary, The. 12mo. Illustrated. $1.50.

A study of the personality, the work and the worth of the Sunday school secretary. Here are set down with fullness of detail and a wealth of illustrative material the principles and methods that make a successful Sunday school secretary, and so a successful Sunday school.

McFarland, John T.

Poems. With an Introduction by Bishop F. J. McConnell. 12mo. 75c.

A little volume of poems full of rich and delicate beauty. The life of the spirit pulses in every line and the poet's thought touches and illumines the deeps of life. A revelation of the sensitive, tender, and mystical nature of the author.

McGee, J. Ellington.

Religion of a Person, The. 12mo. $1.50.

This book does not essay the task of saying the initial or final word on the subject chosen. Its purpose will be wholly accomplished if it excites the reader to a self-activity, to a digging for himself in depths perhaps not new but to some extent unexplored.

McKay, Claude Allen.

Finding Out God's Secrets, and Forty-three Other Story Sermons. 16mo. 75c.

The themes are such as children love, and there are suggestions as to methods whereby each address may be illustrated objectively so as to catch and hold the attention of the children.

This book tells of no hurried trip through Panama and the Canal Zone. It is not a history nor a geography. Instead it is an easy and delightful narrative —a series of intimate sketches of the places, the people and the largely unfamiliar life of that interesting country. With its attractive illustrations and its wealth of picturesque information the book is a real treasure-house.

Social Message of Jesus, The. Crown 8vo. *80c.; by mail, 90c.

Increasing interest in the study of the relation of Christianity to Social progress justifies the production of this volume. The author, during the last ten years, has been deeply interested in the study of the gospel and its social message. The materials contained in this book have been tested out in syllabus form with university classes and church training school groups. The volume represents in clear and unbiased fashion the general results of modern research in its particular field.

Myres, John L.

Political Ideas of the Greeks, The. With Special Reference to Early Notions About Law, Authority, and Natural Order in Relation to Human Ordinance. 12mo. In Press.

In these six lectures by Professor Myres, Fellow of New College, Oxford, and Wykeham Professor of Ancient History, the following themes are discussed: Greek Political Experience, its Meaning and Value; The Notion of Society: the Polis, its Antecedents and Circumstances; The Notions of Ordinance and Initiative; The Notion of Justice; The Notion of Law in Society and in Nature; The Notion of Freedom: the Man and the Citizen. To the ancient Greeks, as to the "Chosen People" of Israel, the modern world owes some of its most vital ideas, in politics and in morals. Each of these great inheritances is interpreted by modern research as the outcome of the special experience of a people confronted with the problem of adapting itself to fresh geographical surroundings and economic conditions, and conscious of the permanent and universal value of the solution to which it was thus led.

Ninde, Edward S.

George Whitefield: Prophet-Preacher. 8vo. Illustrated. $1.50.

George Whitefield was the foremost preacher of his day. He graduated from Oxford in 1736 and was associated with the Wesleys in their great work of religious reformation in England. He made seven visits to this country, and died in 1770 at Newburyport Massachusetts. Dr. Ninde has prepared a biographical volume that possesses unusual interest, furnishes much information, and sets forth in striking fashion "the real Whitefield, the prophet-preacher who left his impress on two continents."

Story of the American Hymn, The. 8vo. Illustrated. $3.50.

The Story of the American Hymn aims to show the rich contribution which our own land has made to the hymnody of the world. It is put in a form which it is hoped will appeal to laymen, and which will also encourage pastors, at Sunday and week-evening services, to specialize in this most fascinating subject, the Songs of the Sanctuary. The book traverses a new and rich field, and is finely illustrated.

This is a novel interpretation of the Book of Revelation, "admittedly the most difficult book in the Bible to interpret." The author, unwilling to believe in the declarations of "the prophets of literalism," with reference to the Book has sought to discover the "more rational purpose behind it," and in furtherance of this intention has produced a study of the Book "seeking the solution of the problems of interpretation by the same general approach as has been employed in connection with the other New Testament books."

Bring Him to Me. 16mo. 75c.

An effective evangelistic book, being a study of some modern methods in the Redemption of Man. While recognizing the value of many present-day remedial methods, the author makes clear that there is no adequate substitution for the gospel plan.

Candle of Comfort, A. 16mo. 50c.

Here are messages of comfort that will be a benediction to hearts that are heavy with grief; words that will enkindle again the smoldering fires of faith, and suggestions that will give strength to the bearer of burdens, courage to the depressed in spirit, hope to the forlorn, and quickening of high desire and noble purpose to the indifferent and careless.

A devotional, spiritually suggestive, and thoroughly practical study of some phases of the life and teachings of Jesus.

Passion of Herman, The. A Story of Oberammergau. 16mo. 50c.

A rarely beautiful story this, centering about the Passion Play. Simple and charming in style, unusual in conception, and deeply helpful, it is especially appropriate for the Lenten Season and Eastertide. Indeed, it is valuable for any time and to all who would understand the Christ ideal.

Pictures that Preach. 16mo. Illustrated. $1.00.

While it is true, as Shakespeare said, that there are "sermons in stones," it is also true that pictures may be turned into preachers. The author finds much sound, practical and spiritual preachment in the pictures he describes in this book, pictures by Angelo, Raphael, Rubens, Da Vinci, Hoffmann, Hunt, Hovenden, Watts, Soord, and Millet. And these pictures are found to be preachers of a high order.

Old Testament History. A Series of Supplemental Lessons for Junior Departments. 18mo. Paper. *15c.
Three admirable series of supplementary lessons for the Sunday school, with blackboard exercises.

Peck, George Clarke.

Cross-Lots, and Other Essays. 12mo. $1.25.
From cover to cover are drollery and gentle irony, flashing scimeter-like strokes of truth, with a pervasive sympathy.

Desert, Pinnacle, and Mountain. 12mo. 75c.
The threefold temptation of our Lord analyzed, explained, illustrated, and applied in a manner that touches every life.

Flashes of Silence. 12mo. $1.50.
Dr. Peck touches upon a wide variety of themes and discusses them with a charm and richness that disclose again the fine quality of his culture, the amplitude of his scholarship, and his rare gift as an interpreter of events, individuals and essential principles of life and conduct.

Forgotten Faces. 12mo. $1.50.
Is the work of a lover of folks and faces—and whimsies. It is like a handful of pages out of an old diary and brought down to to-day; like a gallery of antiquated portraits touched by a skilled hand in startling modernity.

Men Who Missed the Trail. 12mo. $1.75.
It is a book of imagination rather than biography. And yet, just as you are concluding that the author drew upon his fancy, instead of the facts, he surprises you by folding the wings of his imagination over some small but plain item in the record.

Old Sins in New Clothes. 12mo. $1.50.
A series of Sunday evening talks.

Pot of Gold, The. 12mo. $1.25.
In the quaint, half-quizzical fashion which gives his books their charm, this gifted author suggests a few of the paths to the fabled treasure at the foot of the rainbow.

Ringing Questions. 12mo. $1.50.
An original and timely treatment of twelve important questions.

Side-Stepping Saints. 12mo. $1.75.
In this volume the author admits with almost audacious frankness the sins of the saints—until you begin to wonder what is left to tie to; then turns incisively to the quality which redeems.

Junior Method in the Church School. Crown 8vo. Illustrated. *$1.25; by mail, $1.35.

This important and practical volume will be of the largest use to those who are in charge of Junior department work in the Church School. The author endeavors "to see the junior child in the whole range of his life experience." Here are principles and methods which will meet in an admirable way the total needs of the junior child's life. The volume indicates how some of the freer educational methods of today may be used in a thorough practical way and with clearly recognized results in the Church School.

Wesley on Religious Education. A Study of John Wesley's Theories and Methods of the Education of Children in Religion. 8vo. $1.50.
John Wesley was a man of amazing versatility and constructive force. For one thing he was a pioneer in popular education, and did more than any other individual of his day and generation to stimulate the intellectual life of Great Britain. More than this, as is pointed out in this volume, "the far-reaching religious-educational work of the Methodist Episcopal Church continues in unbroken line, a movement which he initiated." What were the theories which formed the underlying basis of Wesley's educational practice? It is to the answering of this question that the author addresses himself in this volume.

Quayle, Bishop William A.

Beside Lake Beautiful. 8vo. Illustrated. Gilt top. Boxed. $2.50.

Consisting of brief, descriptive meditations about Lake Beautiful, where the author has his summer home. There are poetry and philosophy, humor and pathos, quiet mysticism, and shrewd practicality, all deftly woven into word picturing, sure to live in memory.

Blessed Life, The. Being a Series of Meditations on Manhood and Womanhood in Christ. 12mo. $1.50.

A help to Christians to lift up their eyes and behold both the terrestrial and celestial aspects of a holy life.

Book of Clouds, A. 8vo. Illustrated. $2.50.

In this volume—the last message from this radiant and triumphant soul,—Bishop Quayle talks about and interprets the clouds. "From a child," he says, "I loved the clouds and neighbored with them." He reminds us of the Scripture which says: "He maketh the clouds his chariots," and also of that other reference to a cloud, "as if to render it sacred forever," in connection with the ascension of our Lord: "As they were looking he was taken up and a cloud received him out of their sight."

Books as a Delight. 12mo. Embossed paper cover. 35c.

Under the cheerful guidance of Bishop Quayle, and yielding quite willingly to the charm of his literary personality, the reader is treated to a unique exposition of the lure of books.

(See Ivory Series.)

Rice, M. S.

Advantage of a Handicap, The. 12mo. $1.50.
Dr. Rice, in these twelve sermons, demonstrates again that the Gospel of Christ is the power of God unto Salvation. These discourses not only disclose and discuss various phases of the spiritual foundations as established in the Holy Scriptures, but they help also to awaken the individual mind and heart to an appreciation of their inherent possibilities.

Rice, M. S.—(Continued).

Dust and Destiny. 12mo. Portrait and one illustration. $1.50.

Here are fifteen sermons printed as they were uttered by the Preacher,—warm, penetrating, urgent, convincing,—with reverent recognition of the humble yet divine origin of humanity; with high appraisement of the dignity and responsibility of daily living; and with a solid confidence in the fulfillment of man's destiny in the immortal life.

Expected Church, The. 12mo. $1.50.

In these discourses Dr. Rice endeavors "to present the ever-changing appeal of the Church in order that its call might not only be heard but heeded in the passion for its great work." They should stir the church to deeper consecration, and to clear apprehension of its real task in these days of radical readjustments in world activities.

Church at Play, The. Crown 8vo. *$1.25; by mail, $1.35.

The play impulse is a gift of God. But it needs to be guided and trained. If the Church faces the responsibility of saving the world, it must learn how to conserve the world's spare time, money, and energy. Scouting is a great game. It should be put up to boys as a supreme challenge to their play interests and impulses. This book tells how to awaken and direct the play spirit of boys.

Book of Old Testament Lessons for Public Reading in Churches, A. A Lectionary. Volume I, Bible Text. 8vo. $3.00. Leather, $5.00. Volume II, Introduction and Notes. Crown 8vo. $2.00.

This book contains a selection from the greatest passages from the Law, the Prophets and the Writings, each of them in a translation based upon the Revised Version, with carefully chosen improvements to make them more understandable, and accompanied by brief commentary, so that he who reads may himself understand what he reads.

Cuneiform Parallels to the Old Testament. Revised Edition. 8vo. Map, chart, illustrations. $5.00.

This book contains a translation of every important Assyrian, Babylonian or Persian inscription which is in any way parallel to the Old Testament history of literature. There is in no modern language a book so comprehensive or so well suited for scientific or popular use. Its first edition was extensively quoted and used by the foremost biblical scholars of Europe as well as of America. This new edition presents the added value of correction and revision.

Easter Disciple, An. The Chronicle of Quintus, the Roman Knight. 12mo. Embossed paper cover. 35c.

In the midst of the "varying and uncertain voices" that "had been speaking of eternal life before the days of the Son of Man" we hear the voice of Christ, who "spoke His authoritative message." But more than this, "Christ was Himself the vital evidence of the resurrection which He taught." In this charming Chronicle of Quintus, the Roman Knight, Dr. Sanford shows that "the superlative Easter argument is the risen Christ Himself."

It shows that this transformation is both the result of the entrance of the gospel and the necessary condition of its continued advance and its final triumph.

Sheldon, Charles M.

Modern Pagans. 12mo. $1.00.

The Wallaces are a typical American family—wholesome, hearty and honest, interested in sports and society, in politics and business. None the less, they are practical pagans, enjoying the blessings of a Christian civilization, but accepting none of its duties and responsibilities. The story of the transformation of these modern pagans into active and aggressive twentieth-century Christians is told in picturesque and compelling fashion.

Sheldon, Henry C.

Appendix to "A Fourfold Test of Mormonism." Failure of Pro-Mormon Apology to Impair the Test. 16mo. Paper. 10c.

This Appendix was written as a refutation of the arguments recently published by an acute and zealous defender of the Mormon faith.

Christian Science So-Called. An Exposition and an Estimate. 16mo. $1.00.

A critical estimate and appraisal of this Modern Cult, a keen analysis of the competency and claims of Mrs. Eddy.

Fourfold Test of Mormonism, A. 16mo. $1.00.

Mormonism is not a dead issue. While conforming in some ways to the spirit of the age, the real danger of the system still persists. This little study meets the needs of the hour. It is a keen, critical, dispassionate review of Mormonism, tested by history, by criticism of documents, by reason, and by practical results.

History of Christian Doctrine. Fourth Edition. Revised. 8vo. 2 vols. $5.00.

A valuable historic record of the various phases of doctrines and theological opinions as taught and held in the Christian Church from the beginning.

Mystery Religions and the New Testament, The. 16mo. $1.00.

Did the New Testament draw upon the Mystery Religions of Greece for its ideas and ideals? There are those who claim that these religions are in some sense a New Testament Source Book. Dr. Sheldon analyzes and estimates this claim.

Pantheistic Dilemmas And Other Essays in Philosophy and Religion. 12mo. $2.50.

Essays dealing with important issues in the intellectual and religious world to-day. An invaluable volume for the student of current philosophical and religious trends.

Rudolf Eucken's Message to Our Age. An Appreciation and a Criticism. 16mo. 50c.

A scholarly and sympathetic appreciation and critique of Prof. Eucken. The author's interpretation will be a very helpful guide to a correct understanding of Eucken's philosophic and religious attitude.

Russell's Ventures in Adventism. 16mo. Paper. 25c.

The author has given careful attention to the rather grotesque teachings of the late "Pastor" Russell and has presented his conclusions and convictions in his earlier book, Studies in Recent Adventism.

Sacerdotalism in the Nineteenth Century. A Critical History. Crown 8vo. $3.00.

Exposition and trenchant criticism of the great sacerdotal systems.

Studies in Recent Adventism. 16mo. $1.00.

An especially timely review and analysis of the assumptions, claims, and teachings of Adventism. It will be an invaluable antidote to the materialism. Russellism, and premillennialism of to-day.

System of Christian Doctrine. 8vo. $4.00.

A strong and scholarly work for the preacher, student, and layman.

Theosophy and New Thought. 16mo. $1.00.

A keen and critical analysis of these modern cults. While not overlooking the good points and the elements of truth, the weaknesses and fallacies are clearly portrayed. The author treats his subject with judicial fairness and with fidelity to the principles of philosophy and religion.

Unbelief in the Nineteenth Century. A Critical History. Crown 8vo. $3.00.

A critical account of the varying forms of unbelief.

At the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church held in Des Moines in May, 1920, the Committee on Judiciary brought in a report as to the constitutionality of a question required to be asked of candidates seeking admission into the church: "Do you believe in the doctrines of the Holy Scriptures as set forth in the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church?" That report was the subject of a long and able debate as to the doctrinal tests of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The whole matter is brought together in this volume, and includes the majority and minority reports of the Committee.

Canon, Text, and Manuscripts of the New Testament, The. Crown 8vo. $1.50.

While it is true that "the science of literary criticism attains its climax in the lastest text of the Greek New Testament," it is none the less true that such a book as this should commend itself constantly to students of the ancient source records of the New Testament who desire to be in possession of accurate information.

From Jerusalem to Rome. The Acts of the Apostles. A New Translation and Commentary with Introduction, Maps, Reconstructions and Illustrations, and Reproductions. Crown 8vo. Illustrations from Christian Art. $2.25.

The author has brought out in appealing form the story of the first epoch of Christianity in its conquest of the world. The Commentary reads like a romance, the Notes are the minimum for clearness, yet maximum for value, and the Reproductions of the six great centers of early Christianity and the Illustrations from Christian Art are unique and of unusual worth.

(Editor).

Henry Anson Buttz: His Book. Crown 8vo. 2 volumes. Portraits and facsimiles. $5.00.

The Book of Dr. Buttz is a worthy memorial of this great and good man. It is not strictly a biography, not the telling of the tale of what others thought of him, although these features are prominent. In addition to the biographical sketch by Prof. Charles F. Sitterly, and the "Testimony of a Contemporary" by Dr. William V. Kelley, and the "Tribute of a Successor" by President Tipple, the volume contains materials that are a self-revelation of Dr. Buttz through his activities in various fields of service, as lecturer, preacher, teacher, and biblical critic and expositor.

How to Improve Your Sunday School. 16mo. 50c.

A short course which makes use of the survey method and aims to help the present workers to so study their task that they can improve their school in certain respects immediately. By making use of a number of accredited standard books in religious education and questions which bring out the facts about the problems and conditions of the local school it brings together theory and facts so that the workers can proceed at once to make needed and possible improvements in the organization and administration of their school.

Leaders of Young People. 16mo. *$1.00.

This is not an encyclopedia of information on religious work with young people. Neither is it a handbook of hard-and-fast rules for the guidance of the worker. It contains some information and presents some principles that may be considered as rules; but its chief purpose is to be a textbook—a book to be used as the basis for study.

Jesus As Judged by His Enemies. A Study of the Criticisms and Attacks Made Upon Jesus by His Enemies. 12mo. $1.75.

It is a strong case that can be surrendered to the judgment of enemies. It is proposed in this series of studies to examine a number of these judgments and see what light they throw on the person and power of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Snowden, James H.—(Continued).

Meaning of Education, The. 16mo. 75c.

The author presents here a scholarly and valuable study of the psychology of education. He treats of the education of the individual as an entire unit: the education of the body, the intellect, the sensibilities, the will, the spirit, and admits into the range of his discussion matters that are segmental but cognate, and that complete the great circle of education.

Twelve Gates. A Study in Catholicity. 16mo. 50c.

This is truly a "study in Catholicity," chaste and beautiful in style, original in conception and treatment, and thoroughly evangelical in sentiment. A book, this, that lifts one ethically and spiritually into a large room.

Beyond Shanghai. Crown 8vo. With eight illustrations in color from original paintings by the author. $2.50.

This exceedingly charming "look in" upon China is unique because it is "different." The author says: "I made a solemn compact with myself not to attempt to describe, sketch, or otherwise molest the imperial palaces at Peking, but to see as much as I could of the Chinese people themselves in their humblest and most intimate surroundings, to live alone with the Chinese and to eat their food." And this he did, and the fruitage of his unusual experiences is given in this interesting book.

First Christmas, The. From the Gospels of Saint Matthew and Saint Luke. 16mo. Illustrated. Decorated board cover. 75c.

Richly and beautifully illustrated in color with original drawings and decorative designs. The exceptional beauty of the color combinations and the unique designs remind one of the treasured volumes so exquisitely illuminated by the monks of long ago. A most appropriate and desirable gift for the Christmas season.

First Easter, The. 12mo. Decorated board cover. 50c.

The joy and beauty of the first glad Easter Day are exquisitely reflected in this little book. In it is the ever new and wondrous story of the Resurrection, told in the stately language of the Scripture, and embellished with unusually fine illustrations and decorations, original and symbolic in design.

From a Soldier's Heart. 12mo. Illustrated. $1.25.

An artistic portraiture of the realities of a soldier's life. The descriptions are vivid and graphic—so finely etched as to be ineffaceable memory pictures.

Hilltops in Galilee. Crown 8vo. With eight illustrations in color from original paintings by the author. $3.00.

In this volume the author thrills his readers with the story of personal adventures, fascinates them with a modern Galilean romance, and inspires them with his sympathetic reaction to the land where Jesus lived. The book is beautifully illustrated in color with reproductions from eight pictures painted by Mr. Speakman during his recent visit in Palestine.

Spyri, Johanna.

Chel. A Story of the Swiss Mountains. Translated from the German by HELENE H. BOLL. 12mo. $1.00.
The story deals with the rude and uncultivated life of a remote village in the Swiss Alps. How that life was bettered and enriched, and how "Chel," the misunderstood and much maligned orphan boy, developed into a youth of gentleness and genius under the touch of a teacher who realized her opportunity and understood her task, is the theme of the story.

Stafford, Hazel Straight.

Vacation Religious Day School, The. Teacher's Manual of Principles and Programs. Crown 8vo. *80c.; by mail, 90c.
The Vacation Religious Day School is the handbook that is essentially practical. It shows exactly the steps necessary in establishing and conducting a school. Definite information is given for everyone connected with the school, local committee, superintendent, musical director and teachers. Lists of materials, books and daily teaching outlines are included.

Home Lessons in Religion. A Manual for Mothers. Crown 8vo. Vol. I. The Three-Year-Old; Illustrated; Vol. II. The Four- and Five-Year-Old; Vol. III. The Six- and Seven-Year-Old. Illustrated. *$1.00; by mail, $1.10 per volume.
It is for the purpose of meeting the demands of "an awakening conscience within the church as to the need of a revival of home religion" that these books have been prepared. The authors "have worked in the atmosphere of a home where the spiritual development of the children is the first concern of the household." These manuals for mothers containing detailed programs have been organized upon sound psychological and pedagogical principles, as the application of their teaching will fully demonstrate.

J. W. Thinks Black. 12mo. Illustrated. Cloth, *75c.; paper, *50c.

This is Volume Two of the John Wesley, Jr., Series, and deals with certain phases of the so-called race problem in the United States. The book contains much valuable information about the Negro and his present situation, as well as regarding the efforts being made by the Methodist Episcopal Church for his higher development that should be widely disseminated at this time.

Methodism's New Frontier. 12mo. Illustrated. Cloth, *75c.; paper, *50c.

The Methodist Episcopal Church in its service of Home Missions reaches out to the peoples from all lands who have come to our hospitable shores. This volume is much more than a study in immigration, although it supplies much valuable information on that subject. It shows in brief compass what one church has been doing all through the years, and is doing now in larger measure than ever, to meet the demands made by the presence among us of our large foreign populations, especially in their religious and social relation.

Methodist Adventures in Negro Education. 12mo. Illustrated. $1.00.

The peculiar service rendered by the Methodist Episcopal Church in the interests of the higher development of the American Negro is indeed "a romance in Education." The measure of the task is ably depicted in this book.

Circuit Rider Days Along the Ohio. Crown 8vo. Maps and portrait. $2.00.

This book contains historical materials of general interest and covers the period in the pioneer history of the Methodist Episcopal Chlrch from 1812 to 1826 in the Ohio valley. It was during these years that the Wyandot mission was established, and the chapter on the Wyandot mission contains materials drawn from manuscript sources never before used. The book is a continuation of the study begun by the same author, in his recent book, Rise of Methodism in the West, and contains the Journals of the Ohio Conference for the above years, which have never before been published.

History of Latin America, A. Crown 8vo. Illustrated. $3.00.

A long needed book at an opportune time—by an authority on the subject. Covering, as it does, both the past history and the present condition of the Latin American States, the book is especially valuable and illuminating.

Our American Churches. 12mo. *75c.; by mail, 82c.

Professor Sweet has made a careful study of the development of the Church in America as an expression of the religious motive of the people. He tells of the beginning of the Church in the colonies and traces the signs and fruitage of religious interest in the establishment of the various churches in the ever-expanding nation.

(See Studies in Christian Faith.)

Tilroe, William E.

Sent Forth. 12mo. $1.75.

It has been suggested that these pages might be of interest in the classroom. They are the sowing and harvest of the classroom. During eight school years not a few great-hearted fellows, coming to place in the ministry, have considered these sayings among many and will greet them again as none others may. General literature needs only a guiding hand to have a textbook value of the largest worth. What one may do with his own is, of course, quite another affair. How far one's voice shall carry is forever of the tentative. The prime concern is that at its reach it shall be of use.

Tipple, Ezra Squier.

Francis Asbury, The Prophet of the Long Road. Crown 8vo. Illustrated. $3.00.

The story is told with rare skill, and the portraiture is graphic and lifelike. With its beautiful type, fine illustrations, and attractive literary style this volume will appeal to all who would understand the genius of early Methodism and the spirit and power of its first great leader.

Freeborn Garrettson. 16mo. Frontispiece. 35c.

Covenant-Keeping God, A. A Narrative of Personal Experiences. 16mo. 50c.

In this book Bishop Warne tells the story of some of his deep, definitive and vital spiritual experiences, through all of which he has received unshakable evidences of the fact that God is indeed a Covenant-Keeping God.

Lord's Supper, The. 16mo. 50c.

The discussion covers the range of this historical, doctrinal and spiritual values of the Last Supper of Our Lord—the great symbol of the Christian faith.

Sinless Incarnation, The. 16mo. 50c.

Bishop Warne in giving his reasons for writing this book, says: "I thought that if the home readers could and would forget for the time their knowledge of the Bible, and read this outline story of the Incarnation as news, as it is to India's millions, it would give the gospel story a fresh interest even to them."

Tribute to the Triumphant, A. Introduction by Mrs. Evelyn Riley Nicholson. 12mo. Illustrated. 75c.

Bishop Warne was for many years the close companion of Bishop and Mrs. Parker in their missionary work in India, and between them there was also an intimate spiritual fellowship. Bishop Warne makes it clear that "Mrs. Parker had a fame separate from that of her husband firmly implanted in her own character and achievements," and in this volume he seeks to indicate the significant place she will hold in the history of the work of the Methodist Episcopal Church in India.

Watson, Evelyn Mabel.

Inner Radiance: Paragraphs on Christian Mysticism. Introdnction by Bishop Theodore S. Henderson. 16mo. 75c.

Such a book as this needs to be read with a sympathetic mind and reverent spirit if one is to come into understanding with reference to its theme and purpose. It is a center and source of light—a spiritual light, and to him who holds the right attitude of heart and mind toward it there will accrue full compensation, howbeit, "not to the seeker after selfish gain, 'or power to be used for selfish ends, will the reward come, but rather to the one who humbly seeks the light for its own sake, and finding, will use it tor the sake of others."

The Abingdon Texts for WEEK-DAY SCHOOLS OF RELIGION are planned on the basis of a church school year running approximately parallel with the public school year. The lessons for each year provide material for from thirty-two to thirty-six weeks. Careful correlations are maintained with the public school curriculum on one hand and with that of the church on the other. The subject-matter is rich in biblical content, and also freely draws from literature, biography, nature aud life.

Beginning with the kindergarten and continuing to the age of nine, one book is provided for each year, the lessons being sufficiently varied to prevent monotony of impression. From the age of nine, each text deals with one central theme; two texts, each covering one semester of lessons, are provided for each year.

The writers of these week-day texts understand the particular needs of this new type of school. They are acquainted with the religious nature and need of children and youth. They are well equipped for their task, and bring creative power to the producing of the volumes of this series.

The volumes are attractively printed and bound, and made equal in every way to public school texts.

Selections from the Writings of the Rev. John Wesley, M.A., Sometime Fellow of Lincoln College, Oxford. By HERBERT WELCH. $2.25.

The amazing amount of writing and editing done by John Wesley, while it excites our wonder, makes it impossible for most of us to gain a general acquaintance with his works. This volume brings within a small compass some of the choicest products of his busy pen.

(Wesley's Notes.) Explanatory Notes on the New Testament. 8vo. $3.50.

These notes embody the Standard of Methodist belief.

Works of the Rev. John Wesley, The. Preface and Notes by JOHN EMORY. 8vo. 7 vols. Buckram. $21.00. Sold singly, if desired, as follows:

Vols. I, II, Sermons. Cloth, each, $2.25. Buckram, each, $3.00.

Vols. III, IV, Journals. Buckram, each, $3.00.

Vols. V, VI, VII, Miscellaneous. Buckram, each, $3.00.

The sermons embody the leading points of Methodist beliefs. The journals are our best evidence of the writer's enormous activity, and afford rich material for the denominational and social historian. The miscellanies touch an immense range of subjects connected with the beliefs and practices of early Methodism.

THE CHRISTIAN LIFE

537 C. M.

JESUS, these eyes have never seen
That radiant form of thine;
The veil of sense hangs dark between
Thy blessèd face and mine.

2 I see thee not, I hear thee not,
Yet art thou oft with me;
And earth hath ne'er so dear a spot
As where I meet with thee.

3 Like some bright dream that comes unsought
When slumbers o'er me roll,
Thine image ever fills my thought,
And charms my ravished soul.

4 Yet though I have not seen, and still Must rest in faith alone,
I love thee, dearest Lord, and will,
Unseen, but not unknown.

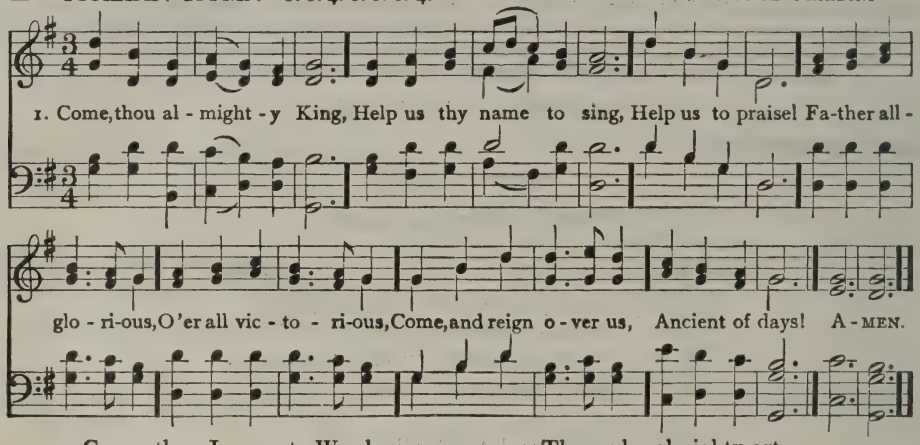
2 ITALIAN HYMN 6. 6. 4. 6. 6. 6. 4. FELICE GIARDINI



2 Come, thou Incarnate Word,
Gird on thy mighty sword,
Our prayer attend;
Come, and thy people bless,
And give thy word success:
Spirit of holiness,
On us descend!

3 Come, Holy Comforter,
Thy sacred witness bear,
In this glad hour:
Thou who almighty art,
Now rule in every heart,
And ne'er from us depart,
Spirit of power!

4 To the great One and Three,
Eternal praises be
Hence, evermore:
His sovereign majesty
May we in glory see,
And to eternity
Love and adore!

Church Records and Account Books.

FOR THE PASTOR, TREASURER, FINANCIAL SECRETARY, AND RECORDING STEWARD.

The Official Church Records.

PREPARED UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE GENERAL CONFERENCE, 1916. SEE JOURNAL, 1916, pp. 359, 575. Revised, 1920.

A new system of records, arranged and approved by the General Conference Committee on Records and Requisites, and conforming to General Conference legislation, has been published and has been installed in a great many of our churches. We believe that this system of church records is the best that the church has ever had to carry on its work efficiently. The Committee in planning this record system had in mind the card system for the everyday use of the pastor in his study; the Permanent Membership Roll for record of matters not called for in the daily work of the church, and the Bound Historical Volume for the record of events which, once made, are not subject to alteration and which should be accessible far into the future. That the system may be thoroughly understood by the churches who are not yet using it, and who are contemplating the purchasing of new records, we would give the following information as to the records available.

The big, bulky, unwieldy Church record is a thing of the past. In its place are two small, neat volumes. The reason for two instead of one is simple. All matters of unchanging data, as births, marriages, deaths, pastoral and statistical record, are in —

The Historical Record of Permanent Data. Book 1. This record should be in every church, as it contains matters of historical and permanent value, and might easily last a church a hundred years. The record contains pages for the Historical Record, Record of Pastors, Record of Official Members, Statistical Records, Benevolence Record, Record of Baptisms, Record of Marriages, and Record of Deaths. Size, 9x6 inches. Indexed A-Z. *$3.25.

The membership itself is to be found in a separate volume—THE PERMANENT MEMBERSHIP ROLL. Book No. 2 is in the modern form of an entire page for each family. Where membership is constantly changing such a Roll has to be rewritten in a new book every few years. To avoid this the PERMANENT MEMBERSHIP ROLL has also been issued in Loose-Leaf form. With the Loose-Leaf, "removals" can be slipped out, and reinstated, for preservation in the back. If in time the book becomes too bulky, a separate binder can be secured for the "removals." Here again, in case of verification, the complete membership of a generation may be in a single volume—making the identification of a person's membership a simple matter.

Permanent Membership Roll. Book 2. This record is arranged by families, a page for each family. The book contains necessary blank pages to record the name of the Head of Family, Occupation, Business Address, Family Name, Christian Name, When Received, How Received, If by Certificate, from Where? Received by, How, Where, and When Removed, Acknowledged, others in family who are Baptized Children or Preparatory Members, Exact Birthday if under 21, Date of Baptism, Church Day School, or Bl. Church Class, Sunday School, How Disposed of, etc. Size, 9x6 inches. Indexed A–Z.

Size K. 100 Families. *$2.25.
Size K. 250 Families. *$3.50.
Size K. 500 Families. *$4.50.

Membership Roll. Loose Leaf System. Size, 9x6 inches. The Record Leaves contain blank space to record the necessary information desired for a complete family record of church members. The Binder with 150 Leaves for Family Record, 10 Leaves for Record of Baptized Children, 10 Leaves for Record of Preparatory Membership, 5 Leaves for Names Not in Alphabetical Order, Alphabetical Index, A–Z, Tab for Baptized Children, Tab for Preparatory Membership, Tab for Names Not in Alphabetical Order, and Tab for Removals. *$5.00.

The supplies are also sold separately as follows: Binder, *$2.50; Index Leaves, A–Z, *35c.; Tabs for Baptized Children, Preparatory Members, Names Not in Alphabetical Order, and Removals. Each, *15c.; Record Leaves, per hundred, *$1.00.

Membership Enrollment Card Index Box. The Index Box is made of oak with cover and will hold 800 cards. Size, 6x4 inches. This card record is for the pastor's use in his daily work. It is made upon the same principle as the membership roll sheet, but contains less information. The card contains blank space to record the necessary information desired for a complete family record of church members and non-members. The Index Box with 150 Family Record Cards for Members, 25 Constituency Cards for Non-Members, one Set Calendar File Cards, Jan.–Dec., one set Alphabetical Guide Cards, A–Z, one Removal Guide Card, one Constituency Guide Card, one Calendar File Guide Card, and one Non-Resident Guide Card. *$5.00.

The supplies are also sold separately as follows: Index Box with Cover, *$2.50; Enrollment Cards, per hundred, *$1.00; per five hundred, *$3.00; per thousand, *$5.00; Constituency Enrollment Cards, per hundred, *$1.00; per five hundred, *$3.00; per thousand, *$5.00; Alphabetical Guide Cards, A–Z, *75c.; Removal Guide Card, *5c.; Constituency Guide Card, *5c.; Non-Resident Guide Card, *5c.; Calendar File Guide Card, *5c.; Calendar File. Jan.-Dec. *25c.

Membership Record. Book 3. This record is intended for small churches whose membership is not constantly changing, and contains sufficient space to last the average church about twenty-five years. Contains Leaves for the Record of Baptized Children, Record of Preparatory Membership, Record of Leaves for Full Membership, and Record of Classes. Size, 9x6 inches. Indexed A–Z.
300 Members. *$2.50.
500 Members. $3.50.
750 Members. $4.50.

Maps and Charts

SPECIAL DESCRIPTIVE LISTS OF MAPS WILL BE SENT ON APPLICATION

Topographical and Historical Maps and Chronological Chart for Bible Students. By CHARLES FOSTER KENT, Woolsey Professor of Biblical Literature in Yale University, and ALBERT ALONZO MADSEN, Graduate Fellow in Yale University. In eight Sheets, 3½x5 feet, lithographed in colors on cloth-backed paper and mounted on wooden rollers.

No. 1. Topographical Map of Palestine, with cross sections of Lower Galilee, Samaria, and Judea, and a Fertility Map. The altitudes are indicated by a color scheme. This contour map has all the old roads and significant places, with ancient and modern names, all important streams and wadies, etc. Price, *$3.50.

No. 2. Period of Wilderness Wandering; about 1200–1150 B. C. Period of Hebrew Settlement in Canaan: about 1150–1050 B. C. The former of these comparative historical maps is colored according to fertility and has the modern identifications as well as the traditional route. The latter is based upon the oldest historical documents. Price, *$3.00.

No. 3. United Hebrew Kingdom: 1050–937 B. C. Divided Hebrew Kingdom: 937–586 B. C. Plans of Jerusalem before the exile and of Solomon's temple are included. Price, *$3.00.

No. 4. Assyrian, Babylonian, and Persian Empires. Price, *$3.00.

No. 5. Restored Jewish Community in Palestine: 538–167 B. C. The Maccabean Kingdom: 167–63 B. C. Price, *$3.00.

No. 6. Herod's Kingdom: 40–4 B. C. Palestine in the Time of Jesus: 4 B. C.–30 A. D. Including a plan of Jerusalem during the Roman period, and of Herod's temple. Price, *$3.00.

No. 7. St. Paul's Journeys and the Early Christian Church: 40–100 A. D. Price, *$3.00.

No. 8. Chart of Biblical and Contemporary Chronology, beginning with 1040 B. C., about the time of Saul's accession to the throne. It gives a conspectus of the Hebrew Kingdom, of Egypt, Assyria, and Damascus, of the captivity, of the entrance of Babylonia and Persia on the scene in the 6th and 7th centuries before Christ, and of Greece with its historic epochs, Macedonia and the conquest of Alexander, finally Rome, the Republic and Empire, to the time of the destruction of Jerusalem in the year 70. It incorporates the results of the most recent discoveries and the original investigations of the authors. Price, *$3.00.

Cylindrical Roller Cases. A New Invention. The sheets are mounted on spring (Hartshorne) rollers, in a light steel tube. The map is rolled securely within the tube when not in use and kept from dust and injury. This invention does away with the clumsy wooden map cabinet, and is far more convenient, durable, and portable. The complete set mounted on spring rollers and inclosed in the steel tubes, can be obtained as follows:

No. 1. *$6.00.
No. 2. *$5.50.
No. 3. *$5.50.
No. 4. *$5.50.
No. 5. *$5.50.
No. 6. *$5.50.
No. 7. *$5.50.
No. 8. *$5.50.

Historical Maps for Bible Classes. Consist of seven maps, size, 17x25 inches, mounted conveniently on a small metal tripod which can be easily shifted from place to place, and can be used where no wall space is available. The maps are a revised and condensed edition of the Historical Maps for Bible Students (wall maps), edited by PROFESSOR CHARLES FOSTER KENT, PH.D., of Yale University, and ALBERT ALONZO MADSEN, PH.D. The aim has been to condense all the matter in that series (except the topographical and chronological chart) in a lesser number of maps, thus reducing the size of the sheet without a proportional reduction in the size of the maps. Price, complete, *$7.50.

These maps are also sold separately. Price, each, *$1.50.

No. 1 in the series is a map of the Sinaitic Peninsula, with Palestine to the north and a portion of the Nile and its delta to the southwest. It illustrates the period of the Exodus and of the wanderings of the Israelites in the wilderness.

No. 2 pictures Palestine as it was during the period when the Israelites were finding permanent homes in eastern and western Palestine. It is a well-known and now generally accepted fact that the Hebrew conquest of Palestine was gradual and at first only partial.

No. 3 represents conditions in Palestine during the period of the United Hebrew kingdom. It is an indispensable geographical guide in the study of the books of Samuel, Kings, and Chronicles. It also includes a plan of Solomon's temple.

Historical Maps for Bible Classes—(C't'd).

No. 4 presents a picture of conditions in Palestine after the exile and during the days of the restored Jewish community and of the later Maccabean Kingdom. This map is especially useful in the study of the books of Ezra, Nehemiah, and the extra-canonical books of 1 and 2 Maccabees.

No. 5 presents Palestine in the time of Christ, and illustrates the gospel stories. New Testament names are brought out with special prominence. A plan of Jerusalem in the time of Christ and of Herod's temple complete the equipment for the study of this all-important period.

No. 6 presents the great Roman empire during the first Christian century, and illustrates the journeys of Saint Paul. Its great value is for the study of the Acts and the Epistles, and of the early missionary activity of the Church.

No. 7 contains the lands of the ancient civilized world, including the valleys of the Tigris and Euphrates, the Syrian coast, and a portion of the Nile valley. All important names of towns and districts are here found.

Historical Chart of the Lord Jesus. By L. F. R. BERRY. Printed in four colors; size, 7½x18 inches, folded in card cover; single copy, *10c.; per doz., *90c.

A Synchronic Chart of Early Apostolic History. As Recorded in the Acts of the Apostles. By G. E. CROSCUP. Paper, *25c.

Tabernacle of Israel in the Desert. Six Colored Lithographs; size, 30x42 inches, with top fastened to a roller. With a book of 106 pages, square 8vo, cloth, wood cuts explanatory of the particulars, with detailed plans and drawings, and letter-press descriptions. By JAMES STRONG. Not sold separately. *$5.00.

Sunday School Maps.

8 [k]And Da'vid and all Is'ra-el played before God with all their might, and with †singing, and with harps, and with psalteries, and with timbrels, and with cymbals, and with trumpets.

9 ¶And when they came unto the threshingfloor of ‖Chi'don, Uz'za put forth his hand to hold the ark; for the oxen †stumbled.

10 And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Uz'za, and he smote him, [l]because he put his hand to the ark: and there he [m]died before God.

11 And Da'vid was displeased, because the LORD had made a breach upon Uz'za: wherefore that place is called ‖Pe'rez–uz'za to this day.

12 And Da'vid was afraid of God that day, saying, How shall I bring the ark of God home to me?

13 So Da'vid †brought not the ark home to himself to the city of Da'vid, but carried it aside into the house of O'bed–e'dom the Git'tite.

14 [n]And the ark of God remained with the family of O'bed–e'dom in his house three months. And the LORD blessed [o]the house of O'bed–e'dom, and all that he had.

3 And A'bram said, Behold, to me thou hast given no seed: and, lo, [f] one born in my house is mine heir.

4 And, behold, the word of the LORD came unto him, saying, This shall not be thine heir; but he that [g] shall come forth out of thine own bowels shall be thine heir.

5 And he brought him forth abroad, and said, Look now toward heaven, and [h] tell the [i] stars, if thou be able to number them: and he said unto him, [k] So shall thy seed be.

6 And he [l] believed in the LORD; and he [m] counted it to him for righteousness.

7 And he said unto him, I am the LORD that [n] brought thee out of [o] Ur of the Chal'dees, [p] to give thee this land to inherit it.

8 And he said, Lord GOD, [q] whereby shall I know that I shall inherit it?

9 And he said unto him, Take me a heifer of three years old, and a she goat of three years old, and a ram of three years old, and a turtledove, and a young pigeon.

10 And he took unto him all these, and [r] divided them in the midst, and laid each piece one against another: but [s] the birds

These Bibles are especially prepared for Lodge purposes; containing, in addition to the features embraced in our Bibles, a new and important department. Instead of the useless Marriage Certificate and Family Record found in Bibles ordinarily furnished Lodges, we have prepared a Lodge Record for keeping the names of Charter Members, Officers, etc., etc. Printed in blue and gold, on first quality bond paper.

PUBLISHED ONLY BY US.

In the preparation of this line of Bibles we have considered every requirement that might be called for in Contents as well as Bindings.

We call especial attention to Lodge Bible No. 96. This Bible is printed on extra quality paper and from clear, large type. Where a Lodge Bible of superior style, grade of materials and workmanship is desired, this Bible is unsurpassed.

The Right Books for Boys and Girls

First of all, the proper books for boys and girls to read are clean books, and written by authors who understand the hearts of the young. Such books should be written in good English, they should be absorbing in interest, wholesome and full of action. Further than this, they should carry a strong message—a message that will leave an indelible impression in the minds of the young readers, well on into manhood and womanhood.

REMEMBER: That price does not necessarily make the book. Price is a manufacturer's problem, having nothing to do with the quality of the story. If a publisher can produce a book at a less cost than can his competitor, he can afford to sell it at a lower figure.

That because a book bears a high price mark it is not necessarily a suitable book for children to read.

That, though the story may be printed on high grade paper, bound in expensive covers, and selling at a high price, it may be "poison," but it isn't cheap.

That many a classic is found in inexpensive covers.

Buyers of books for boys and girls are coming more and more to realize that the Altemus books for the young, while entertaining and instructive, come nearer to realizing the ideal of proper books for children to read than do most of the $1.50 and $2.00 books so alluringly put forth by the higher priced publishers.

Give the children a chance. Growing minds need proper nourishment.

A home without books is like a house without windows.

A book given to a child is a good investment.

Have your children started their library yet?

Have your children an empty bookcase?

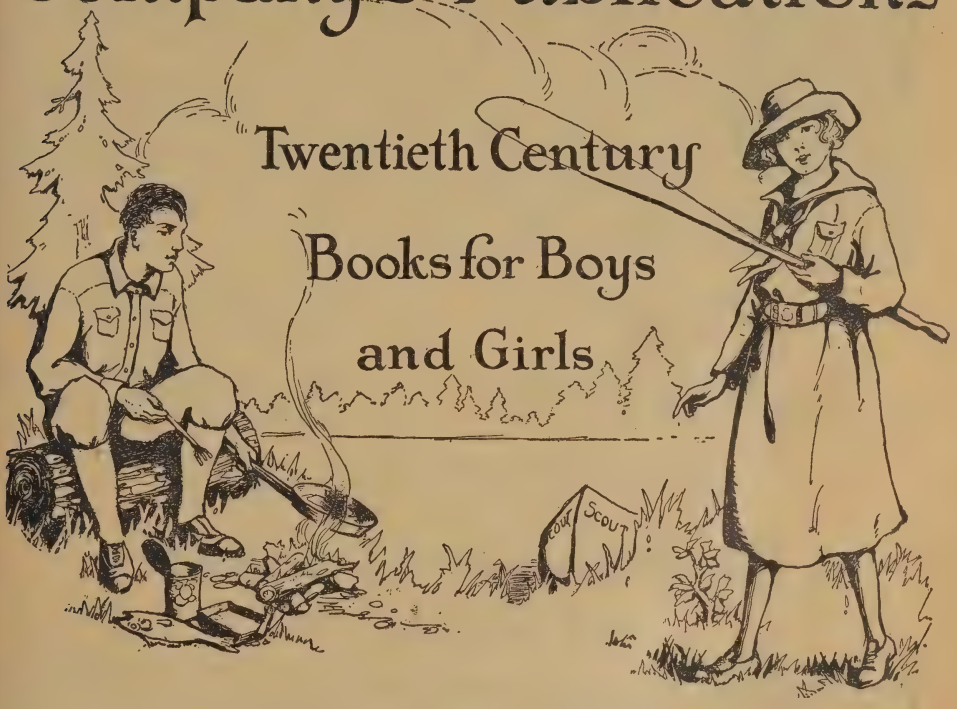
Select the right books for your children, or they may select the wrong books for themselves.

Lincoln's whole life and character was moulded by the books he read—start your children right!

What does your boy do after supper?

Start the children's bookshelf right with Altemus books.

Henry Altemus Company's Publications

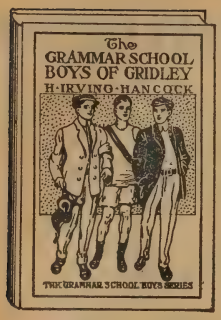


"As boys of the age for which H. Irving Hancock writes are not given to poring over book reviews it is safe to say anything we like about 'Dave Darrin on Mediterranean Service' and 'Uncle Sam's Boys Smash the Germans.' Let us confess that we knew nothing about Mr. Hancock and were inclined to feel scornful of his books until we approached a nephew of seventeen. This youth, who was on the point of entering the Royal Air Force and is now about to enter college, advanced the facts that the Hancock books are fine, all of them—perfectly splendid stories of adventure; that every boy reads them, and that he would be glad to look over the two in question.

"At the end of the second day we unearthed the entranced youth from his easy chair and wrenched them from him. Since that time we have read the books, both of them, and discovered them to be books of clean-cut, double-quick adventure. It has also been discovered that Mr. Hancock is the author of ten series of these gayly moving stories, and that the young male of the species trembles with joy at mention of his name."—The New York Sun.

The Grammar School Boys Series

By H. IRVING HANCOCK



Small wonder the books of this series have made such a hit with the boys of America, for they are full of the life and spirit of youth. There were no quiet or dull moments for any one at Gridley when Dick & Co. were about. In athletics, in schoolboy fun, as well as in scholarship, they were always to be found in the forefront of things, and it was at this school that the foundations were laid for their later brilliant success in the world. Dick Prescott, Dave Darrin, Tom Reade and the other members of Dick & Co. are known wherever books are read. No library is complete without a full set of these books.

1. The Grammar School Boys of Gridley; Or, Dick & Co. Start Things Moving.
2. The Grammar School Boys Snowbound; Or, Dick & Co. at Winter Sports.
3. The Grammar School Boys in the Woods; Or, Dick & Co. Trail Fun and Knowledge.
4. The Grammar School Boys in Summer Athletics; Or, Dick & Co. Make Their Fame Secure.

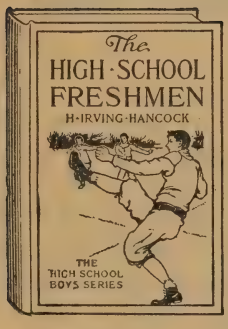
Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

The High School Boys Series

By H. IRVING HANCOCK



There are several good reasons why thousands of the youth of the country are reading of the exploits of Dick & Co. Perhaps the real reasons are that, loving fair play and pluck, as every American lad does, he finds in Dick & Co. a reflection of his own manliness and patriotism. These intensely American lads lead the vanguard in scholarship as well as in athletic activity, and the breezy and vigorous spirit of outdoor life permeates the entire series. Every boy is bound to be a better man in mind and body for having made the acquaintance of the High School Boys. Bright, sprightly and absorbing in interest, without a dull page in the series.

1. The High School Freshmen; Or, Dick & Co.'s First Year Pranks and Sports.
2. The High School Pitcher; Or, Dick & Co. on the Gridley Diamond.
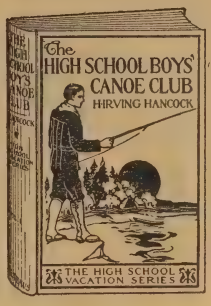
3. The High School Left End; Or, Dick & Co. Grilling on the Football Gridiron.
4. The High School Captain of the Team; Or, Dick & Co. Leading the Athletic Vanguard.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

High School Boys' Vacation Series

By H. IRVING HANCOCK



"Give us more Dick Prescott books!"

This has been the cry from young readers the country over. The pressure had to be accommodated. So Mr. Hancock has written another series setting forth other adventures of Dick & Co. under the title of "The High School Boys' Vacation Series." These books deal with only the manliest phases of boyish life. Outdoor sports are the keynote of these volumes. Four wonderful books they are, and any boy who has started the first must immediately become possessed of the entire set—or he can't be happy! Boys will alternately thrill and chuckle over these splendid narratives.

1. The High School Boys' Canoe Club; Or, Dick & Co.'s Rivals on Lake Pleasant.
2. The High School Boys in Summer Camp; Or, The Dick Prescott Six Training for the Gridley Eleven.
3. The High School Boys' Fishing Trip; Or, Dick & Co. in the Wilderness.
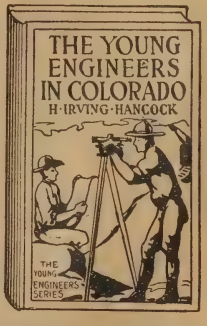
4. The High School Boys' Training Hike; Or, Dick & Co. Making Themselves "Hard as Nails."

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

The Young Engineers' Series

By H. IRVING HANCOCK



Graduating from Gridley High School, Tom Reade and Harry Hazelton have gone West, and connected themselves with a firm of civil engineers. Filled with enthusiasm, with resourcefulness, and an indomitable determination to overcome all obstacles, they meet every requirement with pick, shovel, and pluck; and proved themselves worthy of all the traditions of "Dick & Co." Rousing stories of the boundless prairies; of life and work; of real people, and of actual happenings. The boy who starts reading one of these graphic stories will never leave it until the book is finished.

1. The Young Engineers in Colorado; Or, At Railroad Building in Earnest.
2. The Young Engineers in Arizona; Or, Laying Tracks on the "Man-Killer" Quicksand.
3. The Young Engineers in Nevada; Or, Seeking Fortune on the Turn of a Pick.
4. The Young Engineers in Mexico; Or, Fighting the Mine Swindlers.
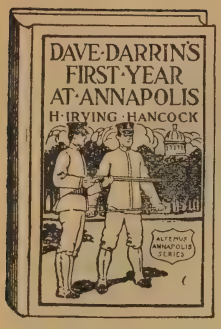
5. The Young Engineers on the Gulf; Or, The Dread Mystery of the Million-Dollar Breakwater.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

Altemus' Annapolis Series

By H. IRVING HANCOCK



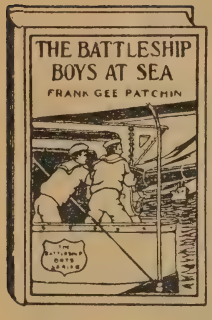
The spirit of the new navy is delightfully and truthfully depicted in these volumes. Dave Darrin and Dan Dalzell secure appointment in the U. S. Naval Academy and after four years graduate as ensigns, and cruise around the world on a battleship. Both young men prove their mettle and give high promise of what may be expected of them in the great conflict that is, even at that moment, hovering over the world. Rollicking good stories; full of incident, adventure, and excellent descriptions. These volumes are certain to inculcate a genuine spirit of patriotism and should have a place in every school library.

1. Dave Darrin's First Year at Annapolis; Or, Two Plebe Midshipmen at the U. S. Naval Academy.
2. Dave Darrin's Second Year at Annapolis; Or, Two Midshipmen as Naval Academy "Youngsters."
3. Dave Darrin's Third Year at Annapolis; Or, Leaders of the Second Class Midshipmen.
4. Dave Darrin's Fourth Year at Annapolis; Or, Headed for Graduation and the Big Cruise.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

The Battleship Boys Series

By FRANK GEE PATCHIN



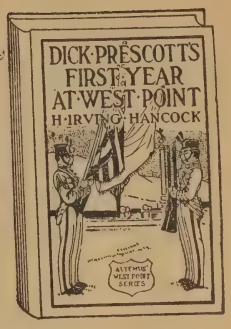
Inspiring adventure, moving incidents over the seven seas, and in the air above them; fighting the Huns from the decks of sinking ships, and coming to grief above the clouds; strange peoples and still stranger experiences, are some of the things that the readers of this series will live when they cruise with Dan Davis and Sam Hickey. Mr. Patchin has lived every phase of the life he writes about, and his stories truly depict life in the various branches of the navy—stories that glow with the spirit of patriotism that has made the American navy what it proved itself to be in the world war.

1. The Battleship Boys at Sea; Or, Two Apprentices in Uncle Sam's Navy.
2. The Battleship Boys' First Step Upward; Or, Winning Their Grades as Petty Officers.
3. The Battleship Boys in Foreign Service; Or, Earning New Ratings in European Seas.
4. The Battleship Boys in the Tropics; Or, Upholding the American Flag in a Honduras Revolution.
5. The Battleship Boys Under Fire; Or, The Dash for the Besieged Kam Shau Mission.
6. The Battleship Boys in the Wardroom; Or, Winning their Commissions as Line Officers.
7. The Battleship Boys with the Adriatic Chasers; Or, Blocking the Path of the Undersea Raiders.
8. The Battleship Boys on Sky Patrol; Or, Fighting the Hun from Above the Clouds.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

Altemus' West Point Series

By H. IRVING HANCOCK



The author is professedly an enthusiast over the military service, yet he never allows his enthusiasm to cloud his judgment. Mr. Hancock has lived with the Army a good deal since 1890, and accompanied the troops as a war correspondent on both the Cuban and the Philippine campaigns. He has lived in the field for months at a time with the troops on active service. His principal characters, in these narratives, are two sound, wholesome, manly young Americans who go strenuously and laboriously through their four years of cadetship. These two cadets are not human wonders, but a pair of average bright American boys, who have a hard enough time in working their way through the Academy to commissions in the United States Army. Their doings will prove an inspiration to all other American boys.

1. Dick Prescott's First Year at West Point; Or, Two Chums in the Cadet Gray.
2. Dick Prescott's Second Year at West Point; Or, Finding the Glory of the Soldier's Life.
3. Dick Prescott's Third Year at West Point; Or, Standing Firm for Flag and Honor.
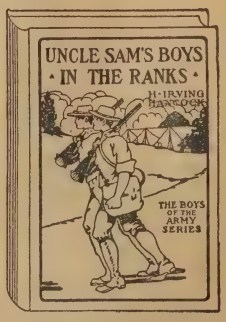
4. Dick Prescott's Fourth Year at West Point; Or, Ready to Drop the Gray for Shoulder Straps.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

The Boys of the Army Series

By H. IRVING HANCOCK



These stimulating stories are among the best of their class that have ever been written. They breathe the life and spirit of our army of today, and in which Uncle Sam's Boys fought with a courage and devotion excelled by none in the world war. There is no better way to instil patriotism in the coming generation than by placing in the hands of juvenile readers books in which a romantic atmosphere is thrown around the boys of the army with thrilling plots that boys love. The books of this series tell in story form the life of a soldier from the rookie stage until he has qualified for an officer's commission, and, among other things, present a true picture of the desperate days in fighting the Huns.

1. Uncle Sam's Boys in the Ranks; Or, Two Recruits in the United States Army.
2. Uncle Sam's Boys on Field Duty; Or, Winning Corporal's Chevrons.
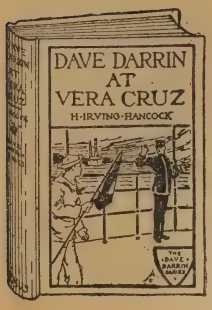
3. Uncle Sam's Boys as Sergeants; Or, Handling Their First Real Commands.
4. Uncle Sam's Boys in the Philippines; Or, Following the Flag against the Moros.
5. Uncle Sam's Boys on Their Mettle; Or, A Chance to Win Officers' Commissions.
6. Uncle Sam's Boys as Lieutenants; Or, Serving Old Glory as Line Officers.
7. Uncle Sam's Boys with Pershing; Or, Dick Prescott at Grips with the Boche.
8. Uncle Sam's Boys Smash the Germans; Or, Helping the Allies Wind Up the Great World War.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

Altemus' Dave Darrin Series

By H. IRVING HANCOCK



The United States Navy played a heroic part in winning the great world war, and so did Dave Darrin and Dan Dalzell, than whom no more efficient officers ever paced the bridge of a man-o'-war. These two young officers were well equipped to meet the tremendous responsibilities that were placed upon their shoulders when America went to war with the Hun. In the last two volumes of this popular series are chronicled the experiences of Dave and Dan in the great world conflict. These books show what life in various phases of the naval service really is.

1. Dave Darrin at Vera Cruz; Or, Fighting With the U. S. Navy in Mexico.
2. Dave Darrin on Mediterranean Service; Or, With Dan Dalzell on European Duty.
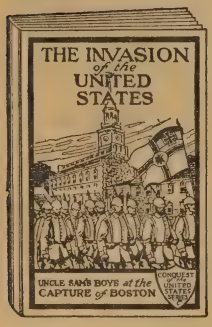
3. Dave Darrin's South American Cruise; Or, Two Innocent Young Naval Tools of an Infamous Conspiracy.
4. Dave Darrin on the Asiatic Station; Or, Winning Lieutenants' Commissions on the Admiral's Flagship.
5. Dave Darrin and the German Submarines; Or, Making a Clean-up of the Hun Sea Monsters.
6. Dave Darrin after the Mine Layers; Or, Hitting the Enemy a Hard Naval Blow.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

The Conquest of the United States Series

By H. IRVING HANCOCK



If the United States had not entered the war as she did, had our Marines failed to stay the Huns in their drive for Paris, had Germany won the war, many things might have happened to America, and this series by Mr. Hancock brings the possibilities of such a situation home to us in a way that makes all who read these remarkable books pause in sober thought. Acknowledged to be among the most unusual and fascinating juvenile books that have been produced—books that bring with them a queer thrill when one considers what easily might have happened. No liberty-loving American boy can afford to miss reading any of these books.

1. The Invasion of the United States; Or, Uncle Sam's Boys at the Capture of Boston.
2. In the Battle for New York; Or, Uncle Sam's Boys in the Desperate Struggle for the Metropolis.
3. At the Defense of Pittsburgh; Or, The Struggle to Save America's "Fighting Steel" Supply.
4. Making the Last Stand for Old Glory; Or, Uncle Sam's Boys in the Last Frantic Drive.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

The Motor Boat Club Series

By H. IRVING HANCOCK

Bright and sparkling as the waters over which the Motor Boat Boys sail. Once cast off for a cruise with these hardy young fresh-water navigators the reader will not ask to be "put ashore" until the home port has finally been made. Manliness and pluck are reflected on every page; the plots are ingenious, the action swift, and the interest always tense. There is neither a yawn in a paragraph nor a dull moment in a chapter in this stirring series. No boy or girl will willingly lay down a volume of it until "the end." The stories also embody much useful information about the operation and handling of small power boats.

1. The Motor Boat Club of the Kennebec; Or, The Secret of Smugglers' Island.
2. The Motor Boat Club at Nantucket; Or, The Mystery of the Dunstan Heir.
3. The Motor Boat Club off Long Island; Or, A Daring Marine Game at Racing Speed.
4. The Motor Boat Club and the Wireless; Or, The Dot, Dash and Dare Cruise.
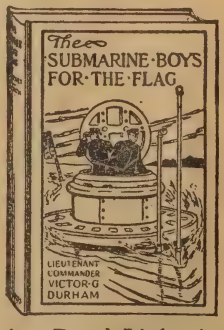
5. The Motor Boat Club in Florida; Or, Laying the Ghost of Alligator Swamp.
6. The Motor Boat Club at the Golden Gate; Or, A Thrilling Capture in the Great Fog.
7. The Motor Boat Club on the Great Lakes; Or, The Flying Dutchman of the Big Fresh Water.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

The Submarine Boys Series

By VICTOR G. DURHAM



A voyage in an undersea boat! What boy has not done so time and again in his youthful dreams? The Submarine Boys did it in reality, diving into the dark depths of the sea, then, like Father Neptune, rising dripping from the deep to sunlight and safety. Yet it was not all easy sailing for the Submarine Boys, for these hardy young "undersea pirates" experienced a full measure of excitement and had their share of thrills, as all who sail under the surface of the seas are certain to do. The author knows undersea boats, and the reader who voyages with him may look forward to an instructive as well as lively cruise.

1. The Submarine Boys on Duty; Or, Life on a Diving Torpedo Boat.
2. The Submarine Boys' Trial Trip; Or, "Making Good" as Young Experts.
3. The Submarine Boys and the Middies; Or, The Prize Detail at Annapolis.
4. The Submarine Boys and the Spies; Or, Dodging the Sharks of the Deep.
5. The Submarine Boys' Lightning Cruise; Or, The Young Kings of the Deep.
6. The Submarine Boys for the Flag; Or, Deeding Their Lives to Uncle Sam.
7. The Submarine Boys and the Smugglers; Or, Breaking Up the New Jersey Customs Frauds.
8. The Submarine Boys' Secret Mission; Or, Beating an Ambassador's Game.

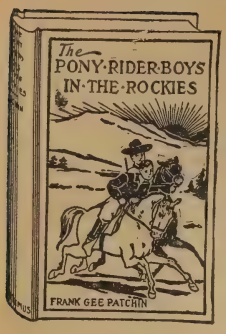
Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

The Pony Rider Boys Series



By FRANK GEE PATCHIN

This unusual and popular series tells vividly the story of four adventure-loving lads, who, with their guardian, spend their summer vacations in the saddle in search of recreation and healthful adventure, though at times it seemed that nature conspired to defeat them at every turn. Long journeys over mountain, through the fastness of primitive forest and across burning desert, lead them into the wild places of their native land and into many strange and exciting experiences. There is not a dull moment for those who read of their adventures.

1. The Pony Rider Boys in the Rockies; Or, The Secret of the Lost Claim.
2. The Pony Rider Boys in Texas; Or, The Veiled Riddle of the Plains.
3. The Pony Rider Boys in Montana; Or, The Mystery of the Old Custer Trail.
4. The Pony Rider Boys in the Ozarks; Or, The Secret of Ruby Mountain.
5. The Pony Rider Boys in the Alkali; Or, Finding a Key to the Desert Maze.
6. The Pony Rider Boys in New Mexico; Or, The End of the Silver Trail.
7. The Pony Rider Boys in the Grand Canyon; Or, The Mystery of Bright Angel Gulch.
8. The Pony Rider Boys with the Texas Rangers; Or, On the Trail of the Border Bandits.
9. The Pony Rider Boys on the Blue Ridge; Or, A Lucky Find in the Carolina Mountains.
10. The Pony Rider Boys in New England; Or, An Exciting Quest in the Maine Wilderness.
11. The Pony Rider Boys in Louisiana; Or, Following the Game Trails in the Canebrake.
12. The Pony Rider Boys in Alaska; Or, The Gold Digers of Taku Pass

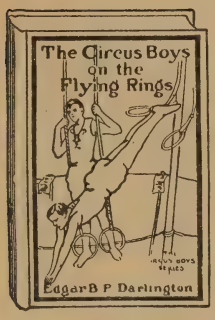
Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00



The Circus Boys Series

By EDGAR P. B. DARLINGTON

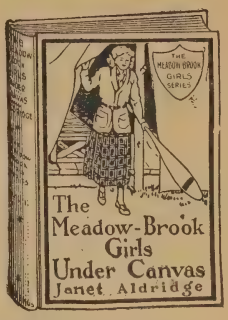
No call to the heart of the youth of America finds a readier response than the call of the billowing canvas, the big red wagons, the crash of the circus band and the trill of the ring-master's whistle. It is a call that captures the imagination of old and young alike, and so do the books of this series capture and enthrall the reader, for they were written by one who knows the sturdy manliness of those who do and dare for the entertainment of millions.

1. The Circus Boys on the Flying Rings; Or, Making the Start in the Sawdust Life.
2. The Circus Boys Across the Continent; Or, Winning New Laurels on the Tanbark.
3. The Circus Boys in Dixie Land; Or, Winning the Plaudits of the Sunny South.
4. The Circus Boys on the Mississippi; Or, Afloat with the Big Show on the Big River.
5. The Circus Boys on the Plains; Or, The Young Advance Agents Ahead of the Show.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

The Meadow-Brook Girls Series

By JANET ALDRIDGE



These books are full of novelty, vigor, and charm for twentieth century girls. In these stories four of the cleverest sort of girls go hiking around the country looking for fun and frolic. They meet with many exciting adventures—some thrilling and others provoking. All the stories are worked out with admirable fidelity to girl human nature, and stand conspicuously far above the level of the books usually chosen for girls' reading. Every one of these books pulsates with the vibrant atmosphere of outdoor life.

1. The Meadow-Brook Girls Under Canvas; Or, Fun and Frolic in the Summer Camp.
2. The Meadow-Brook Girls Across Country; Or, The Young Pathfinders on a Summer Hike.
3. The Meadow-Brook Girls Afloat; Or, The Stormy Cruise of the Red Rover.
4. The Meadow-Brook Girls in the Hills; Or, The Missing Pilot of the White Mountains.
5. The Meadow-Brook Girls by the Sea; Or, The Loss of the Lonesome Bar.
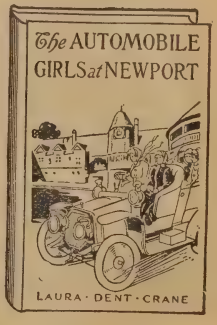
6. The Meadow-Brook Girls on the Tennis Courts; Or, Winning Out in the Big Tournament.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00

The Automobile Girls Series

By LAURA DENT CRANE



Girls as well as boys love wholesome adventure, a wealth of which is found in many forms and in many scenes in the volumes of this series. The stories are written of sane, fun-loving daughters of cultivated families who are lovers of outdoor life and full of the joy of it and of the spirit of adventure. These are stories of to-day, for the girl of to-day, and are already treasured volumes in the libraries of thousands of girls all over America. By far the brightest, most interesting series of books ever penned for girls.

1. The Automobile Girls at Newport; Or, Watching the Summer Parade.
2. The Automobile Girls in the Berkshires; Or, The Ghost of Lost Man's Trail.
3. The Automobile Girls along the Hudson; Or, Fighting Fire in Sleepy Hollow.
4. The Automobile Girls at Chicago; Or, Winning Out Against Heavy Odds.
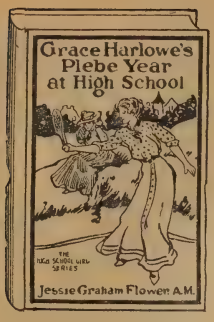
5. The Automobile Girls at Palm Beach; Or, Proving Their Mettle Under Southern Skies.
6. The Automobile Girls at Washington; Or, Checkmating the Plots of Foreign Spies.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, per Vol., $1.00



The High School Girls Series

By JESSIE GRAHAM FLOWER, A.M.

The stories included in this series cannot be surpassed. The different scenes, episodes, and adventures through which Grace Harlowe and her intimate chums pass in the course of these stories are pictured with a vivacity that at once takes the young feminine captive. No girl dipping anywhere into one of these winsome stories will leave it until she finishes the last page—they take hold of the heart and win sympathy.

1. Grace Harlowe's Plebe Year at High School; Or, The Merry Doings of the Oakdale Freshmen Girls.
2. Grace Harlowe's Sophomore Year at High School; Or, The Record of the Girl Chums in Work and Athletics.
3. Grace Harlowe's Junior Year at High School; Or, Fast Friends in the Sororities.

The Grace Harlowe Overseas Series

By JESSIE GRAHAM FLOWER, A.M.

Many war books fail to interest girl readers because they do not describe the great war from a girl's point of view. But it is quite certain that every healthy girl reader will be enthused with the account of the great war given in the volumes contained in this series because these books give intimate descriptions of conditions found in France by the many young American girls and women who went there to serve their country by aiding the American fighting forces.

1. Grace Harlowe Overseas.
2. Grace Harlowe with the Red Cross in France.
3. Grace Harlowe with the Marines at Chateau Thierry.
4. Grace Harlowe with the U. S. Troops in the Argonne.

The Madge Morton Series

By AMY D. V. CHALMERS

The heroines of these stories are four girls, who with enthusiasm for outdoor life, transformed a dilapidated canal boat into a pretty floating summer home. They christened the craft "The Merry Maid" and launched it on the shore of Chesapeake Bay. The stories are full of fun and adventure, with not a dull moment anywhere.

1. Madge Morton—Captain of the Merry Maid.
2. Madge Morton's Secret.
3. Madge Morton's Trust.
4. Madge Morton's Victory.

Cloth, 12 mo, Illustrated. Price, Per Vol., $1.00

Half-a-Dozen Housekeepers

By KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN

If anyone writes better stories for girls than Mrs. Wiggin we don't know who it is; and if there is a better story of its kind than this, or one containing more vivacious girls or delightful old maids, it would be a joy to have the pleasure of reading it. The recitation hall of the Wareham Female Seminary having been burned to the ground, Miss Bell Winship invites five of her seminary mates to go over to the cottage of her parents, left empty for the season, to keep house together for a fortnight. The plan is accepted. The six school-girls "descend" upon the little Maine village, and what they found to do is told with a fascination that is remorseless.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated. Price, $1.00, Net.

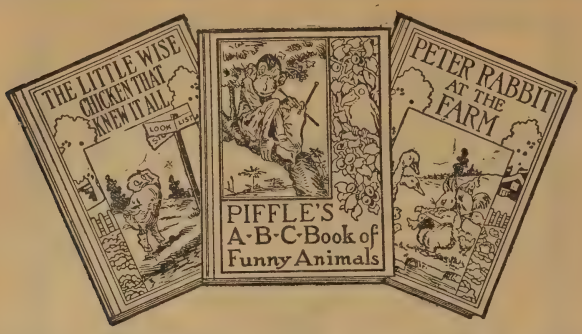
Altemus' Wee Books for Wee Folks



To those parents of little children in the very morning of life, Altemus' Wee Books come as a positive blessing. These stories deal with familiar animals, fairies and simple incidents, and are illustrated lavishly in colors. "The Four Little Pigs," for instance, has a few words of text on each left-hand page, and, opposite it, an appropriate illustration. This arrangement holds the attention of the child while the mother is reading aloud the text. This series may be commended to parents of children between three and seven years of age.

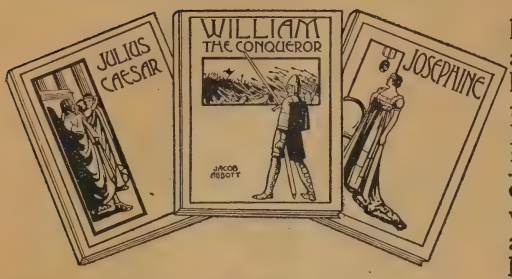
Altemus' Stories from History Series



"I want to thank the Abbotts. I have not education enough to appreciate the profound works of voluminous historians; and, if I had, I have no time to read them. But Abbotts' Series of Histories gives me, in brief compass, just that knowledge of past men and events which I need. I have read them with the greatest interest. To them I am indebted for about all the historical knowledge I have."—Abraham Lincoln.

1. Romulus, the Founder of Rome. By Jacob Abbott. 49 illustrations.

Tells the story of the founding of Rome and his great ancestor Æneas. The facts are of necessity legendary, but are presented precisely as they have come down to us from ancient times. (Out of print.)

2. Cyrus the Great, the Founder of the Persian Empire. By Jacob Abbott. 40 illustrations.

Cyrus was the greatest of Persian heroes. Among his exploits was the capture of Babylon while Belshazzer was feasting.

3. Darius the Great, King of the Medes and Persians. By Jacob Abbott. 34 illustrations.

Darius reduced Babylon and then invaded Greece where his army was routed at the battle of Marathon.

4. Xerxes the Great, King of Persia. By Jacob Abbott. 39 illustrations.

For ages the name of Xerxes has been associated with the idea of the highest attainable human magnificence and grandeur. He was the sovereign of the ancient Persian empire at the height of its prosperity and power. The invasion of Greece by the Persian hordes, the burning of Athens, and the defeat of the Persian galleys at Salamis are chapters of thrilling interest.

5. Alexander the Great, King of Macedon. By Jacob Abbott. 51 illustrations.

Born heir to the throne of Macedon, a country on the confines of Europe and Asia, Alexander crowded into a brief career of twelve years a brilliant series of exploits. The readers of to-day will find pleasure and profit in the history of Alexander the Great, a potentate before whom ambassadors and princes from nearly all the nations of the earth bowed in humility.

6. Pyrrhus, King of Epirus. By Jacob Abbott. 45 illustrations.

The story of Pyrrhus is one of the ancient narratives which has been told and retold for many centuries in the literature, eloquence and poetry of all civilized nations.

7. Hannibal, the Carthaginian. By Jacob Abbott. 37 illustrations.

Hannibal was one of the greatest generals, and is one of the most interesting historical characters. His father made him swear on the altar eternal hatred to Rome—and all the glowing enthusiasm of his soul, all the great virtues of his character, and all the wonderful fertility of his mind were concentrated in this hatred. The three Punic Wars continued for forty-three years, when Carthage was finally utterly destroyed.

Cloth, Illuminated Covers, Illustrated. Price, 75 Cents Each

8. Julius Cæsar, the Roman Conqueror. By Jacob Abbott. 44 illustrations.

Julius Caesar was one of the most remarkable men that ever lived. An accurate historical account of the life and times of the greatest military figure in history; in fact, it is history itself, and as such is especially commended to the readers of the present generation. (Out of print.)

9. Alfred the Great. By Jacob Abbott. 40 illustrations.

Alfred the Great, regarded as the wisest and the greatest of all the English kings, appears in history as the founder of the British monarchy, his predecessors having governed more like savage chieftains than kings. This work has a special value for young readers, for the character of Alfred was that of an honest, conscientious, and far-seeing statesman.

10. William the Conqueror, of England. By Jacob Abbott. 43 illustrations.

The life and times of William of Normandy have always been a fruitful theme for the historian. War and pillage and conquest were at least a part of the everyday business of men in both England and France, and the story of William makes some of the most fascinating pages in history, especially delightful to young readers.

11. Hernando Cortez, the Conqueror of Mexico. By Jacob Abbott. 30 illustrations.

Vivid pictures of the wild and adventurous career of Cortez and his companions in the conquest of Mexico. Many good motives were united with those of questionable character, in the prosecution of his enterprise, but in those days it was a matter of national ambition to enlarge the boundaries of nations and to extend their commerce at any cost. The career of Cortez is one of absorbing interest.

12. Queen Elizabeth, of England. By Jacob Abbott. 49 illustrations.

In strong contrast to the story of Mary, Queen of Scots, is that of Elizabeth, Queen of England. They were cousins, yet implacable foes. Elizabeth's successes gained her the applause of the world. The stirring tales of Drake, Hawkins and other famous mariners of her time have been incorporated into the story of Elizabeth's life and reign.

13. Mary, Queen of Scots. By Jacob Abbott. 45 illustrations.

Her youth, her beauty, and her misfortunes made her popular; and a belief that she was suffering for her religion raised her to the dignity of a martyr. Her story is full of romance and pathos, and the reader is carried along by conflicting emotions of wonder and sympathy.

14. King Charles the First, of England. By Jacob Abbott. 41 illustrations.

The well-known figures in the stormy reign of Charles I. are brought forward in this narrative of his life and times. It is history told in the most fascinating manner, and embraces the early life of Charles; the court of James I.; struggles between Charles and the Parliament; the Civil War; the trial and execution of the king. The narrative is impartial and holds the attention of the reader.

15. King Charles the Second, of England. By Jacob Abbott. 28 illustrations.

The prevalence of corruption and profligacy in politics, together with the despotic policy of the court, rendered this reign one of the most conspicuous in English history.

16. Madame Roland, a Heroine of the French Revolution. By Jacob Abbott. 42 illustrations.

The French Revolution developed few characters more worthy of notice than that of Madame Roland. She fell a martyr to the tyrants of the Revolution. Her career never fails to impress the reader.

17. Marie Antoinette, Queen of France. By John S. C. Abbott. 41 illustrations.

The tragedy of Marie Antoinette is one of the most mournful in the history of the world. "Her beauty dazzled the whole kingdom," says Lamartine. Her lofty and unbending spirit, under unspeakable indignities and atrocities, enlists and holds the sympathies of the readers of to-day, as it has done in the past.

18. Josephine, Empress of France. By Jacob Abbott. 40 illustrations.

Josephine was the first wife of Napoleon I. Her wisdom and talents, and the affection with which she was popularly regarded, did much to strengthen Napoleon's position in France. She was crowned with him (1804). The fact that she was childless made him divorce her (1809) when she retired to Malmaison. She died a year before Waterloo.

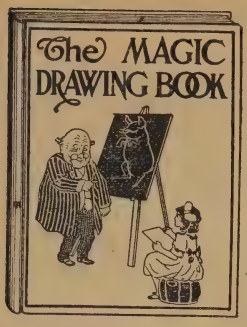
Altemus' Dot Drawing Books



The Altemus Magic Dot Drawing Books are not books for mere amusement. They are designed for use in Kindergartens, in teaching the small child to count, and are very much better than the old-fashioned painting books—and very much cleaner.

The young artist begins by drawing, in the picture selected, a straight line from dot No. 1 to dot No. 2, and thence proceeds in straight lines to numbers 3, 4, 5, and so on to the end of the numbers, when the figure to be reproduced is completed and assumes form and life. When the young artist has thus connected all the numbers he will be surprised at the amusing pictures of boys and girls and their frolics and escapades—and the picture books will be books of his own creating—and hence always treasured.

1. The Magic Drawing Book of Funny Animals.
2. The Funny Magic Drawing Book for Boys and Girls.
3. The Magic Drawing Book for Boys and Girls.
4. The Magic Fairy Tale Drawing Book.

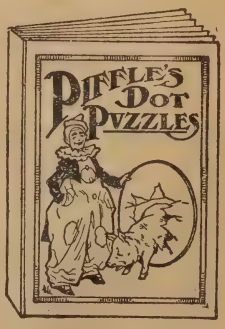
Cloth, Illuminated Cover Design. Price, 75 Cents Each

The Piffle Dot Drawing Books Series for Boys and Girls



Picture books with jingles. The object denoted is indicated by dots and numbers, which, when connected by straight lines drawn by the child artist, make a picture of the missing object. These books are designed for use in Kindergartens, in teaching the small child to count, and are as interesting as any game ever conceived.

Altemus' Peep of Day Series

The design of these books is to lead children to understand and to delight in the Scriptures. If adults meet with difficulties in reading the sacred text, children meet with many more, which these books will clear up.

1. The Peep of Day. This volume gives a series of lessons in the Bible, in which the mysteries of the creation, salvation, the life and ministry of Christ, and other vital truths are made plain. It is written in very simple language so that small children may understand it. Numerous beautiful poems add to the interest of the book.

2. Line Upon Line. This book of Bible stories written especially for children begins with the creation of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden, and follows the history of the patriarchs down to the stories of Joseph, Moses and Joshua. These are most interesting portions of Old Testament history. The book will be valuable for parents or teachers to read to small children, and older ones will find it interesting also.

3. Precept Upon Precept. No life in human history charms children like the life of Christ. It is delightful to witness the deep interest which children take in His teachings and in the incidents of His earthly life. One finds it easy to believe God has implanted in the infant heart a desire to hear and know Jesus. In this little book there have been gathered from the Gospels seventy-three incidents retold in simple story form, which are particularly appropriate for young people.

Gertrude Smith's Bible Stories

Baby Bible Stories Robbie's Bible Stories

Bed Time Bible Stories for Little Children

"After all the stories written for children have been passed in review and tested, it still remains true that there are no stories equal to those told in the Bible. And when these stories are retold, with sympathetic appreciation and adaptation to the child mind, as in Gertrude Smith's pretty books, there will be no lack of interest on the part of those who read or hear them. Give the children such stories as these to brighten and bless the evening hours and to make the bedtime an undying happy memory."—From report of the "Congress of Mothers" at Washington, D. C.

Delight

By GERTRUDE SMITH

The story of "Delight" begins two years after she had been given her new name by her "Aunt Constance," a childless widow who had taken her from a Children's Home in Boston to her country place. Before that, "Delight" was a poor little lame thing, very "wobblety and achey," named "Ennie." She is taught by "Aunt Constance" to live up to her new name "Delight," and to know that God is Love, and that with absolute faith He will cure her completely. He does. The joy of "Delight" and her friends is made complete when her "Aunt" at last makes the child her very own "legal little girl."

Jimmy Sliderlegs—A Book for Little Boys
AND
Slovenly Betsy—A Book for Little Girls

Have you ever heard of what happened to Jimmy Sliderlegs who was always sliding down the banisters every time he got a chance, and what a terrible time Slovenly Betsy had until she began to keep herself clean and neat? These little books tell all about Jimmy and Betsy, and about some other little boys and girls just like them. What these little boys and girls did, and what happened to them, is told in these little books in a manner that every little boy and girl will understand, and there are lots of pictures printed in colors in each little book for nice little boys and girls to look at.

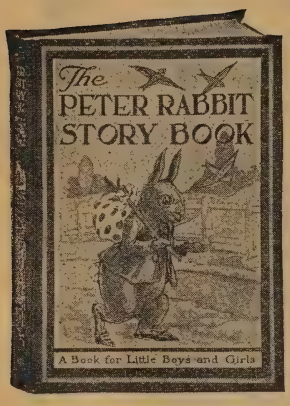
The Peter Rabbit Story Book

For Little Boys and Girls



"I wish the publishers of 'The Peter Rabbit Story Book' could have heard the pretty tribute which was paid to this volume in my presence not long ago." It was in the children's ward of a hospital. Several tiny convalescents were listening to stories read to them from this book. "Oh! yes," the nurse told me in answer to a question, "the children love 'The Peter Rabbit Story Book' because the stories are told in such simple words that the very youngest little tot can understand and enjoy them. I am glad whenever the opportunity occurs to praise this delightful book. It covers the difficult ground between 'being read aloud to' and 'reading for himself' with which every mother struggles. I know all the little two-year olds and three-year olds are going to be as happy as can be if they find a 'Peter Rabbit Story Book' among their birthday gifts or on Christmas morning."

Parents and others who may be in a quandary as to what might be a fitting gift to a small child can solve the problem satisfactorily by the presentation of this volume.

The Man Without a Country

By EDWARD EVERETT HALE

Edited with Introduction and Notes

By Norris H. Laughton, A.B., A.M. (Harvard)

He who has never read this masterpiece has still a valuable work before him. From the first sentence to the last the author holds the reader's interest, and when we have laid the book aside our only regret is that there is no more left for us to read. No American can consider himself well versed in patriotic literature unless he is acquainted with this piece of our national literary wealth. Every home, library and school should possess this book, and no student, business man or woman should leave it unread.

Two Years Before the Mast

By RICHARD HENRY DANA

Richard Henry Dana, the author of "Two Years Before the Mast," while at Harvard University, which he entered in 1831, became troubled with an affection of the eyes that prevented him from continuing his studies. He therefore determined to see what an entire change of life would do towards curing his malady, and with this end in view he shipped as an ordinary seaman on board a sailing vessel bound for California. He was away just over two years, returning in September, 1836, being then in his twenty-first year. His book, which was published in 1840, is distinguished by its vivid descriptions of life at sea in the early days of the American mercantile marine.

Grimm's Fairy Tales

The Brothers Grimm, Jacob Ludwig Carl and Wilhelm Carl, are famous wherever books are read, and especially as the joint authors of Grimm's Fairy Tales. The lives of these two brothers were so bound up together that they scarcely ever separated. They worked, ate and lived together until 1850, when Wilhelm, always delicate, died. Their father was a lawyer, and early the tastes of both young men, though they too had studied law, turned to literature. Jacob became superintendent of the library of Jerome Bonaparte, king of Westphalia, while Wilhelm received an appointment in the Cassel Library. While thus engaged the brothers collected all the popular fairy tales they could find, partly from the mouths of people, partly from books, and in 1812–15 published the famous stories known as Grimm's Fairy Tales. Jacob having resisted the unconstitutional encroachments of the king of Hanover was banished, and Wilhelm shared his banishment. Jacob was called to Berlin as professor and member of the Academy of Sciences, and there they lived until the death of Wilhelm. Grimm's Grammar was another of the books produced by these famous brothers. Jacob died in 1863.

Andersen's Fairy Tales

By HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

The author of "Andersen's Fairy Tales," a Dane, born in 1805, was a poet as well as a story teller. He began life in most humble circumstances and learned to read and write in a charity school, where he was placed at the age of nine, and, at the same time, was obliged to work in a factory after school hours to help support his widowed mother. Even then his imagination began to work and he wrote many stories, none of which were published, but which brought him to the attention of Councillor Collin, who got the boy into a government school, thence to a university. Soon thereafter his writings began to attract attention, and in 1853 there appeared the first volumes of his "Fairy Tales," which became the most popular of all his works. They were translated into many tongues, and to-day are as popular as when first offered to the public.

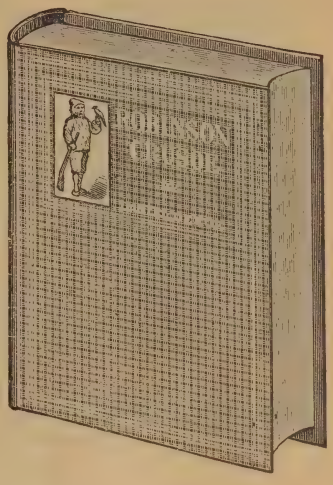
Robinson Crusoe

By DANIEL DEFOE



Like John Bunyan, Daniel Defoe, an English author who was born in 1659 in the suburbs of London, had the misfortune to get into jail. With Bunyan the sentence was for preaching; with Defoe it was for writing a satire entitled "The Mock Mourners." For this he was condemned to pay a fine, to be pilloried three times, and to be imprisoned indefinitely. While serving out his sentence he wrote to while away the time. It was, however, his later work, that immortal story, "The Life and Adventures of Robinson Crusoe," that made him famous. This story was founded on Dempier's "Voyage Around the World," and on Alexander Selkirk's adventures which were related to him by the adventurer. Crusoe's shipwreck and adventures, his finding the foot-print in the sand—the whole atmosphere which surrounds the situation—have made Defoe's work an imperishable part of English literature.

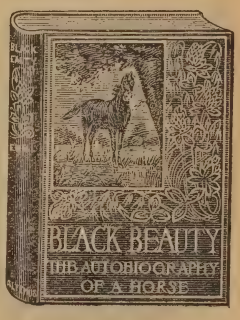
Black Beauty

By ANNA SEWELL



This world-famous book has been called the "Uncle Tom's Cabin of the Equine World," but the pathetic history of its author has few parallels in literature. It is the story of the horse written by a woman who loved horses, who, in a humble home in Yarmouth, England, a cripple for life, wrote this enduring story from her invalid couch. She spent five years in the writing of the book, that has been translated into many languages, that is used in schools in many lands to teach the young kindness to that faithful animal the Horse. This volume was a real gift to the world, and soon after its production Miss Sewell died without reaping the benefits from her great humane effort. The keynote of the story is happiness, which it radiates from every line, and no one reading it can help being a better human and possessing a better appreciation of the noble animal so closely associated with our daily life and activities.

Alice in Wonderland and Through the Looking Glass

By LEWIS CARROLL

Illustrated by Sir John Tenniel

Charles Lutwidge Dodgson, better known under the pen name of Lewis Carroll, was an English author, known also as a mathematician and lecturer on mathematics. He was born in 1833 and lived until 1898. He devoted himself to his mathematical studies, writing at the same time, but attracting little attention to himself in the literary world until the year 1865, when he wrote "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland," which almost immediately brought him fame. This story has found appreciation, not only with the young, but with those of riper years as well. Equally delightful proved the story following, which was written as a sequel in 1871. This story, "Through the Looking Glass," related the further adventures of Alice, and has been fully as widely read as "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland." Both of these popular stories are here offered in one volume. No more charming or fascinating stories have ever been written.

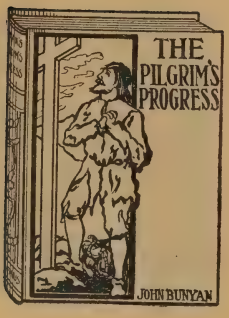
The Pilgrim's Progress

By JOHN BUNYAN



The author of "Pilgrim's Progress" was born in a small town in England in 1628, the son of a tinker. He grew up a morose lad, gifted with an imagination and a sensibility that almost amounted to a disease. At times he was filled with remorse and despair over his own fancied shortcomings, and devoted hours of every day to study of the Bible. He first took up writing as an occupation, then became a preacher, but his preaching was not fully appreciated and he was thrown into jail because he persisted in preaching his doctrines, and remained there for twelve years, though frequently offered his liberty if he would promise to preach no more. It was while in jail that he wrote "The Pilgrim's Progress," a book probably more widely known and read than any other book in the world, except the Bible. This famous book possesses a charm which gratifies the imagination of the reader with all the action and scenery of a fairy tale, and untold thousands of children have gazed with mingled feelings of fear and delight on the pictures representing Christian thrusting his sword into Apollyon or writhing in the grasp of Giant Despair.

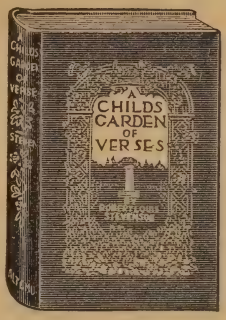
A Child's Garden of Verses

By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON



The appeal that Stevenson has made to the more mature readers of the world finds a counterpart in his appeal to the children. Nothing has ever so won the hearts of the great mass of American children as has Stevenson's "A Child's Garden of Verses," probably the most delightful collection of verses for the young to be found in the world's literature. Its charm is felt by every boy and girl reader of this book, a volume of verse that has touched the deepest chords in human emotion.

ALBERT BIGELOW PAINE BOOKS

Albert Bigelow Paine occupies an enviable position in the profession of letters and is one of the most widely known of American authors. His name is especially familiar to the reading public as the long-time friend and biographer of Mark Twain. Mr. Paine was born in New Bedford, Mass., moved west with his parents at an early age and received his first schooling in the public schools of Xenia, Ill. He began writing quite early in life and later on became an editor on St. Nicholas Magazine. He is the author of many books and short stories, but none more delightful than the volumes here listed.

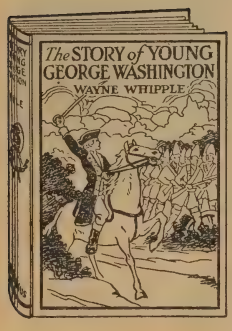
The Story of Young George Washington

By WAYNE WHIPPLE



In all that has been written about George Washington, his youth has never been treated as an adventure story, though he had a thrilling career, even as a boy. We are sure, therefore, that readers will find "The Story of Young George Washington" unusually interesting, if not, in some respects, a surprise.

Thanks to Mr. Mason L. Weems and others who tried to make their hero a demigod, people in general have the notion that the Father of His Country was a pompous, pedantic sort of character with a mixture of ichor and ice-water coursing in his veins.

Instead of that, he was a real boy and a great-hearted manly man, the stand-by of his mother, a poor widow, without school advantages, and looked down upon by the "F. F. V.'s" because he earned his own living—his first battle for independence.

He was more like Lincoln than many suppose, having a broad sense of humor —sometimes laughing till he lay in a helpless heap, and often till the tears ran down his cheeks.

The newspapers have poked fun at the so-called "discovery" of Washington's humor, comparing Mr. Whipple, the author of the book, to Columbus and Galileo—and even to Edison, as if it were all an invention! Yet the same papers have called the man of this book "the flesh-and-blood Washington," and the history professor of a great university surprised Mr. Whipple one day in the street by saying, "You have created a new Washington."

He had to reply that he had "tried only to reproduce the real Washington,"—who was neither a prig nor a snob, but the great, kindly, generous, warm-hearted man we can all love as well as revere. To show him as he really was—to young folks especially—is an endeavor in patriotism.

This book should find a place in every home where books are part of the daily life. Stories like these cannot be read too often by young people.

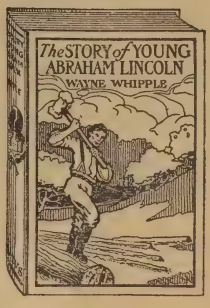
The Story of Young Abraham Lincoln

By WAYNE WHIPPLE



While he was a fellow-guest, with Robert Todd Lincoln, Ambassador Bryce, and other honored personages, at Lincoln's old home in Springfield, Illinois, during the great Lincoln Centennial celebration, the author of this book was enabled to meet a number of friends and relatives of Abraham Lincoln, and secure from them many new "Lincoln Stories," and much good material which had never been put in print before.

With these signal advantages he made such good use of the new data thus secured, that Abraham Lincoln's only surviving son, Robert T. Lincoln, remarked about a certain intimate matter which took place in the White House in 1862:

"I don't remember that, Mr. Whipple."

"Of course not," the author replied, "for you were in Harvard at that time."

"So I was, so I was," said Mr. Lincoln, laughing. "I believe you know more about our family matters than I do myself."

After reading something Mr. Whipple had just published about his father, Robert T. Lincoln wrote to him:

"You are putting the people nearer to the heart of Abraham Lincoln than any other writer."

All these new materials have been fused together by the author's intimate heart-knowledge, and poured, warm and throbbing, into "The Story of Young Abraham Lincoln," and these fresh and fascinating features make the book well worth reading.

The Story of Young Benjamin Franklin

By WAYNE WHIPPLE

Benjamin Franklin "was born and bred in obscurity" (the words are his own) in Boston, and was the fifteenth child of his father. His schooling was limited to the common English branches, and he was placed, at the age of ten, in the shop of his father, a tallow-chandler, and set "at cutting wicks for the candles, filling moulds for cast candles, attending the shop, going of errands, etc." The occupation was distasteful, so he was apprenticed to learn the trade of a printer of an older brother, who had a printing-office in Boston. This employment brought him into communication with books, and he spent his hours after his day's work in reading whatever he could find that suited his tastes.

He did not get on pleasantly with his brother, so when seventeen he went to Philadelphia. Here he found employment as a printer. Meeting with encouragement, he determined, when about twenty-one years of age, to open a printing-office on his own account, and went to London to procure the type and other materials. Not being able to effect the purchase, he remained nearly two years in London, practising his trade as a printer.

Franklin held various important public offices, and was one of the leaders of public opinion in the controversies between the Colonies and the mother country. He was a prominent member of the Continental Congress, and was one of a committee of five to draft the Declaration of Independence; and, finally, he was a delegate to the Convention by which the Constitution of the United States was drafted, after the war was over. He would have been elected Vice-President with Washington but for his advanced years.

Mr. Whipple's story is an intimate history of the wonderful boy who became the greatest of Americans; and shows in an inspiring way how a poor boy without friends or money forged his way into international prominence. Stories like these cannot be read too often.

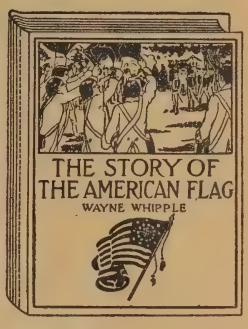
The Story of the American Flag

By WAYNE WHIPPLE

THE FLAG OF COLUMBUS



Here is the flag of Columbus—the first ever raised above American soil. Do you know what the design symbolizes? What was the flag carried by Cortez—still preserved in the National Museum at Mexico? What was the flag of the Puritans? Of Capt. John Smith? Why did Gov. Endicott cut the red cross out of the Massachusetts Colony flag? What was the flag designed by Franklin—the first ensign adopted by the Continental Congress?

These are but a few of the interesting questions answered by Wayne Whipple in his splendid book, "The Story of the American Flag," from the banner of Columbus to "Old Glory" of the present day.

Respect for the flag is the first lesson in patriotism. There is no better method of instilling such respect in the minds of small children than by giving them a better knowledge of the origin and development of that emblem to which they are so frequently called upon to profess allegiance—how it came into being, what it has stood for in the past, and its greater significance to-day. Here is material for many a story hour, every page alive with intense human interest, expressed in language which the youngest children can understand.

Here you will also find simple versions of The Boston Tea Party, The Stamp Act, Paul Revere's Ride, Battle of Lexington, and other historical events with which the flag is closely allied.

On every patriotic holiday you will find this book a welcome volume, for, in addition to the complete story of the flag, it contains a collection of songs, poems, addresses, drills and sayings about the Stars and Stripes, many of which are available from no other source; making the book especially adaptable for kindergarten and primary school exercises.

"The Story of the American Flag" is a well-printed book bound in durable cloth covers, with colored frontispiece, and many illustrations in black and white.

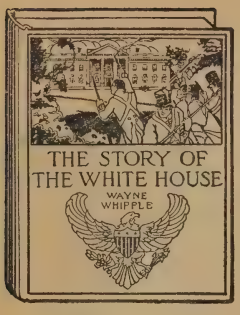
The Story of the White House

By WAYNE WHIPPLE



Is a bright, "meaty," gossipy history of the United States presented in the personal stories of the Presidents and their families, old and young, from George Washington to Woodrow Wilson. In telling how each of the twenty-eight Presidents "got there," Mr. Whipple has given many a vivid account of heroic struggle and of noble achievement. Over and above all the inspiring things you would naturally expect to find in a book about the First Home in the Land, this breezy history overflows with data which cannot be found in any other history or story.

Of all the unheard-of items in it, did you know:

That a peppery Scotch neighbor actually told Ex-President Washington that he (the Father of his Country!) would never have amounted to anything if he hadn't married a wealthy widow?

That the national capital was "a swamp in the woods" when President John Adams went to live in the White House, and that Mrs. Adams had the weekly washing hung up to dry in the East Room?

That the Quaker wife of "the great, little Madison," instead of leaving the White House to be burned in the War of 1812, declared that if she could have her way she would have the muzzle of a cannon pointing out of every window of the mansion?

That John Quincy Adams sent a solemn message demanding that Congress take immediate action because an irate editor had pulled the President's son and secretary's nose in the Rotunda of the Capitol?

That Andrew Jackson was so popular that he was mobbed by the people, who thronged the White House, stood in muddy boots on the new satin-covered chairs and sofas to get a chance to see their idol, and crowded him so that he "slept out" the first night he should have stayed in the Executive Mansion? Or what he said to Mrs. Alexander Hamilton when she served him the first ice-cream he ever ate?

How fresh-picked cherries and iced milk made Millard Fillmore President of the United States of America?

All these and scores of questions quite as strange and illuminating are answered in this patriotic and fascinating volume on the White House with its short history of our land and nation.

"The Story of the White House" is finely printed and bound in illuminated cloth covers, with frontispiece in colors, and profusely illustrated in black and white.

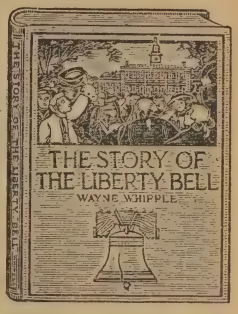
The Story of the Liberty Bell

By WAYNE WHIPPLE



Is a history of the great struggles in many lands, beginning with "An Ancient People's Dash for Liberty" over three thousand years ago.

Mr. Whipple leaps over "the Seven Seas" and across the centuries to find the most heroic, age-long struggles for freedom.

The tale of Erin's conflict is quaint and thrilling. The stories of brave little Switzerland's fightings with Austria and the final triumph through the heroism of William Tell and Arnold of Winkelried can never be anything but inspiring. Then the century-long struggles of the Vaudois or Waldenses. Then the Crusades, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," of Richard Lionheart and Saladin, will live through the ages as the epic of Christian heroism. The villain king of England follows his bravest of brothers, and the angry barons gather around John, Richard Lionheart's brother, like so many wolves showing their teeth to terrify the royal hyena and get their rights through the signing, sealing and delivering of one of the Four Great Documents of Liberty, the Magna Charta of England.

The three other great Documents of Democracy were signed in America. The "Compact" of the Pilgrim Fathers in the little stuffy cabin of the "Mayflower" came next. If any of those "grave and reverend signers" had ventured to laugh while signing that Document, he would have come near being pitched head foremost into the briny deep.

But at the signing of the third Parchment of Freedom—the Declaration of Independence—the Fathers of the Country laughed. "Now we must all hang together," said the President of the Congress in Independence Hall, as he wrote his "John Hancock"—"so that King George can see it without his spectacles!" Dr. Benjamin Franklin answered with a chuckle—"Hang together or we will all hang separately!" Though they well knew they would have to die for that if they did not win their freedom, those old heroes laughed. So American humor was born at the same time as American Independence—twins.

Of course there was humor at the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation—the fourth Document of Liberty, for Abraham Lincoln wrote that.

"The Story of the Liberty Bell" itself is strange and novel. The book is a thrilling story showing how the greatest heroes have been fighting and waiting for thousands of years—"to make the world safe for democracy."

Little Black Rabbit

By KENNETH GRAHAM DUFFIELD

This book mingles together the most original, wonderful and delightful nature stories that ever enthralled the minds of childhood. Those who recall the "Brer Rabbit" stories will agree with all that is claimed for these simple imaginative tales. The book is a treasure mine for parents to read to children.

Brer B'ar has lost the water from his well. So, "Li'l Black Rabbit hunt up de almanac what tells when it's de light of de moon, an' when it's de dark of de moon. Li'l Black Rabbit knows dat ef you cuts trees in de light of de moon, de planks ain't never gwine stay straight, but gwine twis' an' curl an' be no good. An' he know ef you wants to fin' water when you dig a well you gotta dig in de light of de moon, kaze de water rise in de light of de moon an' fall in de dark of de moon."

Elsewhere in this jolly book, which has no word of suffering, or real wickedness in it, we are told of a noise in the poultry yard:—

"Up jump Billie Pink-Eye, an' off he put to see what makin' all de racket. In course, when Billie Pink-Eye start off, de res' of de family gotta go, too, de whole kit 'n' barrel of 'em. Dere wuz:

"Johnnie Jump-Up, he gotta go.

"An' Dottie Dimple-Nose, she gotta go.

"An' Timmie Tiny-Toes, he gotta go.

"An' Slim Jimmie, he gotta go.

"An' all de res' of de chillun, what wuz so new dey ain't got no names, dey gotta go.

"Bimeby back come Billie Pink-Eye jess a-prancin'. 'Oh, Black Rabbit! Come quick! Come a-runnin'!'

" 'What's all de trouble, Pink-Eye?' says Li'l Black Rabbit.

" 'You know Ole Dominecker Hen, what got all dem li'l chickens?'

" 'Uh-huh,' said Li'l Black Rabbit.

" 'Well, de hen what got all dem chickens, ain't got all dem chickens!' "

Which meant, as was further explained, "dat somebody done stole all dem chickens an' ain't nary one of 'em lef' nowhars!"—Montreal Family Herald & Weekly Star.

Manual of Mythology

By ALEXANDER C. MURRAY

Edited by W. H. Klapp

To the student or the casual reader of mythology, this volume is invaluable. No more helpful work on this subject ever has been written, and any person interested in the subject will find it both fascinating and informative, for it will teach him how to read and understand the mythologies of the early races of the world. The work treats clearly and comprehensively of the fables, legends, myths and traditions in the earliest periods of civilization. Though speculations on the origin of mythology have been put forth from a very early period, it is only in recent times, by comparing together the myths of different peoples, that any real advance has been made and the study of mythology placed upon a scientific basis. This has been done in the present volume.

The Age of Fable; or, Beauties of Mythology

By THOMAS BULFINCH

Edited by W. H. Klapp

Out of the humdrum existence of a business life, Thomas Bulfinch developed into a writer of world-wide renown. This American author was born in Boston, Mass., in 1796, and died there in 1867. He graduated from Harvard in 1814 and then engaged in business, devoting his leisure hours to writing. His life was largely given up to mercantile pursuits, however, until 1837, when he became a clerk in the Merchants Bank of Boston. It was while so engaged that he wrote his enduring masterpiece, "The Age of Fable; or, The Beauties of Mythology." In this work he planned to popularize mythology, dealing with the various mythologies in their relations to each other. That he accomplished his ambition is evidenced by the fact that the "Age of Fable" still holds its place as the most popular work on the subject ever produced.

The Care of Children

By ELISABETH R. SCOVIL

Elisabeth Robinson Scovil is well fitted to advise on the care of children. She has had extensive hospital experience and was for ten years in charge of the infirmary at a large school. This has given her an insight into the needs of children which makes the book an invaluable assistance to mothers. The food necessary to keep a child in health from earliest babyhood onwards is described and many extremely useful recipes are given. The diseases common in childhood, which cause the mother so much anxiety, are dwelt upon in detail, so that this mother knows exactly the symptoms of each, the proper diet and the especial care required to guard against dangerous complications. The chapter on the care of the eyes has been commended by one of the best oculists in America. The proper attention to be given to the teeth and the hair is dwelt upon. The book is an answer to the many questions that arise every day to puzzle the mother of young children.

Preparation for Motherhood

By ELISABETH R. SCOVIL

A book of plain, straightforward advice, such as one woman would give another in her hour of need. The necessary preparations for the advent of the baby are described in detail. What things should be on hand to avoid confusion and perhaps disaster when they are needed. The diet and clothing of the expectant mother, the wardrobe that should be in readiness for the baby and the small necessaries that it is most important shall not be forgotten. As the food of the mother is of especial importance at this time many excellent recipes are given. Clothing being a matter of unusual difficulty the hints on this subject will be found particularly valuable. Suggestions for relieving the many ailments incident to this time of trial are offered and helpful hints as to what should be done and what should be avoided to make the experience as easy as possible. The proper food for the baby and its care during the first days and weeks of life complete a very helpful book.

A Baby's Requirements

By ELISABETH R. SCOVIL

The value of this little book is out of all proportion to its size. It is written by a trained nurse and contains simple advice on the care of the baby during the first year of life, as well as on the needments for the mother's comfort. The baby's food is dealt with and a wardrobe, suited to moderate means, is described; also the bed, bath and toilet basket for the newcomer. A short chapter on the ailments common during the early months gives invaluable advice.

Names for Children

By ELISABETH R. SCOVIL

It is often a puzzling matter to find a name for the new baby. This little volume offers the choice of more than 1200 names for boys and girls, with their meaning and derivation. For example, Elspeth is the Gaelic form of Elizabeth and means God is her oath. Guy is from the French and means sensible. There are added lists of the birthday gems and birthday flowers appropriate to each month; the old lines describing the qualities belonging to children born on certain days of the week and eighteen wedding anniversaries, with their proper designation.

Prayers for Girls

By ELISABETH R. SCOVIL

Under the auspices of the Department of Religious Education of the Diocese of North Carolina, this little volume is designed for use in girls' schools or among groups of girls who are being given systematic training in the prayer life. Some of the prayers are in the formal language which we associate with the Bible and the prayer book; others are in the language of everyday. The sentiments expressed make the book desirable reading even for those who prefer to formulate their own thoughts when engaged in actual prayer.—From "Aegis," A Book Guide for Teachers, Worcester, Mass.

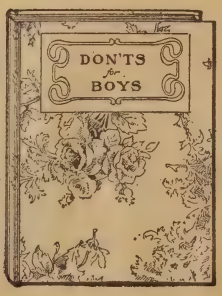
Don'ts for Boys

By AN OLD BOY



Boys, full of activity and vitality—in other words, "steam"—are perhaps more prone thoughtlessly to fall into error than are girls. It is to call their attention to the most common of these errors, and to point the way to correct them, that this volume has been written. Every lad will find it to his enduring advantage to follow the rules laid down in this volume which will lead him into a happier boyhood and a more manly and successful manhood. No more useful gift from parent to son could be selected, for it cannot but prove a distinctly helpful factor in moulding the boy's character.

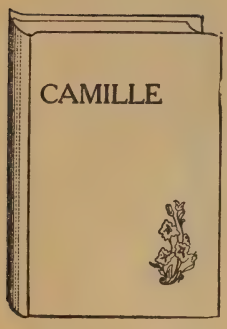
Camille

By ALEXANDRE DUMAS



"Camille" is a household word, and the story of Camille is one that has been read all over the world, a story that, in its dramatized form, has held the attention and stirred the emotions of untold thousands of theater-goers. Few volumes ever published have had a wider reading or have been more sympathetically received, and none, perhaps, is better known, for Camille has been read and discussed in many languages, and in most homes where books are loved and read. It is a touching story, full of human interest, dealing with human beings, drawn from lives that the author knew, a story that turns the spot-light on real human souls. The story of "Camille" is one that no person who has not yet read it should miss.

Carmen

By PROSPER MERIMEE

A romance laid in Seville, in the early part of the last century, that from the opening paragraph to the closing line will always have new charm and always find new hosts of readers. Its conspicuous quality is a richness of imagery, and a flare of color, joy and passion. This notable example of modern French literature shows the author's touch as that of the true craftsman holding fast to the best traditions of his art. "Carmen" was adapted for the operatic stage in 1875, and presented at the Opera Comique in Paris where it scored a success equal to that of the book itself.

The Ifs of History

By JOSEPH EDGAR CHAMBERLIN

"There is a book called 'The Ifs of History' that is well worth a couple of hours of anyone's time. It consists of twenty-two chapters designed to show upon what trifling circumstances the destinies of humanity have hinged.

What would have been the effect on history—

If Columbus had kept his straight course westward?

If the boy Washington had become a British midshipman?

If Lincoln's father had moved southward, not northward?

If the Confederates had marched on Washington after Bull Run?

These and other interesting questions are discussed in a fascinating manner in this book."—From Bruce Barton's editorial in The Red Book Magazine.

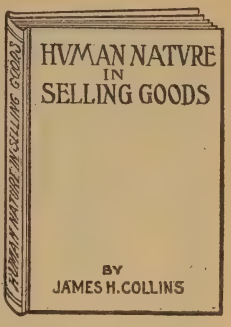
JAMES H. COLLINS' BOOKS

Human Nature in Selling Goods



This is a small book—you can slip it into your pocket—but it contains a great deal of practical selling philosophy, chiefly in the form of stories told by successful salesmen themselves to illustrate good methods. Many of the stories are about selling difficulties—hard customers, active competition and other obstacles that the salesman meets. And the stories tell how some flesh-and-blood salesmen actually went over the obstacle or straight through it. This little volume should be on the working book-shelf of every man or woman who sells goods on the road or behind a counter.

The Art of Handling Men

Some of the greatest teachers in history have always told a story when they wanted to make a point. That is Mr. Collins' method of making clear a subject like scientific management. Disregarding the technical terms he goes straight after the men who are doing the thing and gets them to explain it in terms of experience. Then he condenses the experience of a hundred men in stories that will help other fellows do that thing. This small volume shows how the game element may be introduced into work, how many labor difficulties disappear when jobs can be made steady, how the bonus wage idea has been humanized, how there is a right sort of welfare work and a wrong kind, and so on.

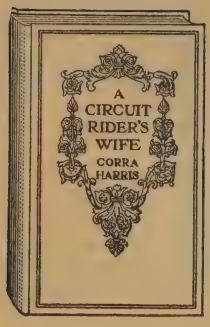
A Circuit Rider's Wife

By CORRA HARRIS



In "A Circuit Rider's Wife" Corra Harris tells of the experiences of such an itinerant minister's helpmeet. In addition to its common sense, the book tells the story of the chief characters of the town and congregation, with whom the minister's wife is "about as well acquainted as the Recording Angel is."

The immediate popularity of this story is clear to all who read it, for it is the absorbing narrative of two people who lived the Beatitudes, and for all those who want to live the Beatitudes it points the way.

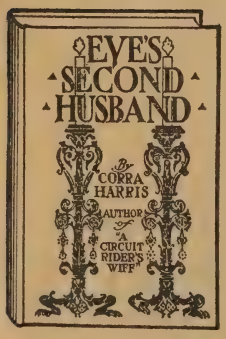
Eve's Second Husband

By CORRA HARRIS



The story of a woman's heart—a woman good and clever, pure and practical; the intimate, absorbing story of an American wife, told by herself. It is an extraordinary revelation of the feminine soul.

EVE SAYS:

"The women men admire may be industrious, but the women they love most are usually idle ones."

"Men do what they think is fair or best for them in their dealings with men, but with women they do what is easiest at the moment."

"The way to hold a husband sometimes is to let him go for a while and then grip him in a new place."

"When a man ceases to call his wife 'adorable' and 'darling' she does not need to consult her mirror."

"I have never seen a woman in my life who did not admire a reformed man more than she respected just a good man."

"To be a suspicious bride is an incredible sacrilege against love."

Little Soldiers of France

By RUTH ROYCE

When the soldiers of the A. E. F. first arrived in France the children loved them because they had come to help punish the enemies of the beautiful land overseas. Later they learned to love the soldiers for themselves. This affection was fully reciprocated by Uncle Sam's Boys, and a strong bond of sympathy and understanding grew up between the children of France and the big "Yankees" with the smiling eyes and the hearts of gold. Many of these little patriots attached themselves to the various American units, and performed such deeds of valor as will live in the hearts of the Doughboys as long as life lasts. Some of these deeds of heroism, gleaned from participants in the great war, have been written down in this little volume for our own little heroes and heroines, the boys and girls of America, each story typifying the spirit of patriotism that is so deep-seated in the hearts of the little sons and daughters of France.

By FRANK K. RICH

CALEB PEASLEE could have been born in no other land under the sun. He is a many-sided man. He is an authority on signs and portents. He comprehends the mysteries of auctions, where the things you pay for aren't those you "planned to buy." His account of the scarecrow belongs in history. There was also that scientist who discovered that the curious "fungoid" was a hornets' nest. And horses! The only man "down in Maine" that knows more about horses than Caleb is Hen Barker—as much a living human being as Peaslee: "'Hen's a confirmed hoss-trader,' Caleb related. 'I knowed him one time to swap hosses through an open window at Mahaly Binns's funeral; and Mahaly was his own mother's aunt, and Hen was settin' in the room with the mourners.' Caleb paused and added: 'He made a good trade, too.'" Indeed, there have been few books so hilariously amusing: Deacon Lysander Hyne, Mrs. Obed Gunney, Mrs. Sadderly, who was "sort of in years and snuffled"—"the meanest man on earth," Elbert Waddell, owner of the calico mare: Caleb presents them all through his own eyes, with a dry, unforgetable humor. There is a continuous story running through this sparkling lake of anecdote: a love-story, and a good one. We advise you to read Caleb for that love-story's sake. Read him and laugh, and read him again and again, and learn to laugh harder, and stronger, and better.

ANTRIM, MINNA THOMAS

A Book of Toasts

"Originality and audaciousness on every page." Grave, gay and mirth-provoking. This attractive volume includes toasts suitable for all occasions, such toasts as have not been worn threadbare by years of usage, and that will bring gales of laughter and wholesome enjoyment. The ability to appropriately respond to toasts is possessed by comparatively few persons, but any young person after a little study of this helpful volume will find himself the happy possessor of a fund of good things that will enable him to meet a demand of this kind without the slightest hesitancy.

Decorated Boards, 75 Cents, Net.
Ooze Calf, Gilt Top, Boxed, $1.25, Net.

BARTON, F. T.

The Horse—Ailments and Accidents

The book is not written with the idea of enabling the horse-owner to do without the assistance of the qualified veterinary surgeon; in fact, the author is strongly opposed to the home-doctorings of livestock, and believes that much mischief is frequently done through the adoption of this foolishly economical plan. The work has been expressly prepared for the service of those who, when requiring professional advice and aid, have difficulty in getting it quickly, or perhaps cannot get it at all.

Cloth, 12mo, $1.00, Net.

BEVERIDGE, ALBERT J.

Americans of To-day and To-morrow

In a familiar, colloquial style, with frequent anecdotes, the author makes possible the process of "seeing ourselves as others see us."

Cloth, 16mo, 75 Cents, Net.

The Bible as Good Reading

"One of those choice little books for the home library that is always refreshing. A fine tribute to the Book of books. I have read it a dozen times or more, and each time with renewed interest. Would that a place were made for this book in every home, and that its message could be lodged in every heart in the land."

Cloth, 16mo, 75 Cents, Net.

BEVERIDGE, ALBERT J.—(Con.)

Work and Habits

A book aimed at a broad target; of which the young American is the bull's eye. It is the sort of book that makes one think; that makes one say unconsciously, "This means me."

Cloth, 16mo, 75 Cents, Net.

BIBLE BIRTHDAY BOOK, THE

This volume, with texts for every day in the year, is applicable to the daily needs and emergencies.

Limp Velvet Calf, $2.00, Net.

BIBLE PICTURES AND STORIES

A book of Bible Stories from the Old and New Testaments, with numerous illustrations in black and white and colors.

Cloth, 4to, $1.25.

BLYTHE, SAMUEL G.

The Making of a Newspaper Man

"Any young man who feels a strong inclination for the newspaper field can probably get more solid and valuable information in this book than half a dozen set courses under theoretical instruction could possibly furnish."—Leslie's Weekly.

CLEVELAND, GROVER

Good Citizenship

"There should be an end of self-satisfied gratification, or pretense of virtue, in the phrase, 'I am not a politician.' Every citizen should be politician enough to bring himself within the true meaning of the term as one who concerns himself with 'the regulation or government of a nation or state for the preservation of its safety, peace and prosperity.' This is politics in its best sense, and this is good citizenship."

Cloth, 75 Cents, Net.

DEFOE, DANIEL

Robinson Crusoe (Esperanto Edition)

Esperantists will welcome De Foe's masterpiece in the "international language." Students should read it with Altemus' Young People's Library edition of "Robinson Crusoe," from which the translation was made.

Boards, Illustrated, 75 Cents.

DE SEGUR, MADAME LE COMTESSE

The Story of a Donkey

Cloth, Illustrated, $1.00.

DUFFEY, MRS. E. B.

What Women Should Know

This book tells women what every woman ought to know. Without that knowledge conveyed by this book they cannot perfectly fulfill their womanly destiny. Its language is plain and direct, and in its hygienic recommendations it is fully up to the most advanced ideas of the day.

Cloth, $1.00, Net.

EVE OF ST. AGNES, THE

(Waistcoat Pocket Classics Edition.)

HABBERTON, JOHN

Helen's Babies

Cloth. 12mo, Illustrated, $1.00.

HABBERTON, JOHN—(Con.)

Poor Boys' Chances

A series of biographies of twenty American boys who, though born in humble circumstances, by hard labor, self-sacrifice and indomitable pluck and pertinacity, reached fame and fortune. Every ambitious, earnest boy should have a copy of this inspiring book. No boy ever had poorer early "chances" than Washington, Franklin, and Lincoln.

Cloth, 12mo, Illustrated, $1.00, Net.

Trif and Trixy

A story of a dreadfully delightful little girl and her adoring and tormented parents, relatives, and friends, by the author of "Helen's Babies."

Cloth, $1.00, Net.

HALE, EDWARD EVERETT

The Man Without a Country (Crestmont Edition)

Cloth, Illustrated, $1.25.

HOUSMAN, A. E.

A Shropshire Lad

"Of all contemporary English poets, Mr. A. E. Housman is the simplest and the most inimitable. Cleverness may copy cleverness, subtlety simulate subtlety, fantasy flatter fantasy; but the directness of the lyrics of 'A Shropshire Lad,' their truth of imagination, their honesty of phrase, cannot be borrowed for a moment without detection. Some have assumed the manner, some have confessed a debt by their titles, but in each case is the true attribution clear—'school of A. E. Housman.' And 'A Shropshire Lad' remains single and sufficient."—The Bookman.

Beautiful stories from the life of Jesus.
Cloth, Illustrated, $1.00.

LANG, ANDREW
The Story of the Golden Fleece
The charm which ancient Greece exercises over the human mind seems to defy time, although its story is made up of shadows with only tremulous lines of reality faintly showing here and there. But Mr. Lang has made these dim pictures glow with marvelous loveliness. Mr. Lang was chief of the few who splendidly convey into English whatever saga or legend he set his hand to, and his telling of "The Story of the Golden Fleece" has done much to quicken American readers.
Cloth, $1.00 Net.

LONGFELLOW, HENRY W.

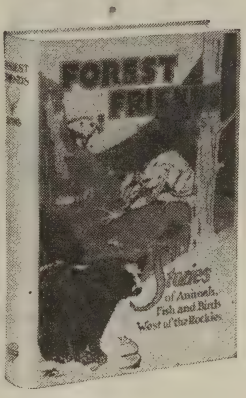
Popular 'Animal Story Books

FOREST FRIENDS

By H. R. EVANS

Intimate Stories of Animals, Birds, and Fish West of the Rockies



The charm of this book is in its simple realism. You see the creatures of the wilds in their homes. Most of the stories are the direct outcome of what the writer himself has observed in the woods, beside the streams, and upon the bay and river. For the rest he has drawn upon the experiences of friends with whom he was associated for six years in the mountain valleys of the Pacific Coast. A book for every one who loves the great out-of-doors. Illustrated with original photographs. Cloth, $1.50 net

ANIMAL LAND

By WILLARD ALLEN COLCORD

This charming new book contains three hundred stories, all TRUE, and beautifully told.

It tells about sixty different kinds of animals, birds, and insects.

Some of the stories tell of thrilling adventures; others are humorous and will amuse both old and young.

It contains twenty-four beautiful full-page illustrations and twenty-eight special feature pages.

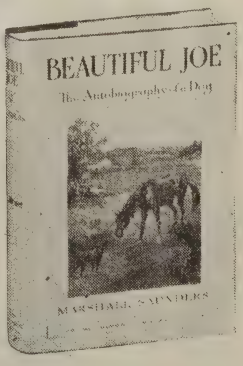
BEAUTIFUL JOE

By MARSHALL SAUNDERS

More Than a Million Copies of "Beautiful Joe" Have Been Sold



The life-story of a dog as told by himself. The outstanding qualities of faithfulness, sagacity, and companionship are illustrated by interesting incidents in the dog's life. Underlying the story is a strong plea for kindness not only to dogs but to all dumb animals. Beautiful Joe was rescued and owned by the author's family, and the entire charming story is founded on fact. This is a dog story that will never die or grow old. Illustrated.

NOTICE TO PURCHASERS

We supply only our own publications.

Keys and Translations are supplied to teachers only.

Orders. Each order should be clearly written and signed by the purchaser. It should give the post office, county, and State, and also indicate whether the books are to be sent by mail, express, or freight; and, where the name of the railroad or express station differs from that of the post office, it should be stated.

Orders for first introduction must give the titles of the books to be displaced as well as those to be introduced.

Exact Titles. All orders should give the exact titles of the books as printed in our price list; otherwise, we cannot be held responsible for errors in shipping. In ordering by telegraph, purchasers may use the code words given in this Price List.

Books sent as ordered are not returnable.

Single Copies. Where any of our printed books are not readily obtainable through the dealer, they will be sent by us to any teacher on receipt of the list price as herein given.

Order Early. Orders are usually filled on the day on which they are received, but just before the opening of schools this is not always possible. To insure prompt delivery due allowance should be made for unavoidable delays and orders should be sent early.

THE NEW TESTAMENT

With Notes, Instructions and References

Pocket Edition. Size 6 x 3¼.

Read what Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman says:

The New Testament with Notes cannot but be helpful to its readers.

The Introductions to the several books have been prepared by an expert in Biblical scholarship. Taken together it would be impossible to find in the same compass Introductions that present a better way the salient features of each Book while giving information at the time concerning questions of authorship, date, purpose and destination.

The Notes upon the text are themselves marvels of scholarly condensation. They aim to present a concise explanation of the words of Scripture, selecting those passages which need such explanation. The writers of these Notes have used rare discrimination in their preparation. and possessors of this book will find it a perfect mine of information at their command.

The Instructions are designed to make a practical application of the truth. This feature, which is unique, makes the volume one of rare value, and those who read these Instructions will not only have the truth brought directly and forcibly home to their own lives, but will also be furnished with material that will be of inestimable value to them in Christian service and work.

The Outline of the Harmony of the Gospels given is based upon the Standard American Revised Version, which is unquestionably the best modern Version and presents an outline of the Life of Christ that will commend itself to those who make use of it.

A Manual of American Citizenship

Here is a fine gift for members of boys' and young men's classes. It is especially valuable for young men of foreign birth or parentage, but who can read English. It renews the American's knowledge of his country and informs the foreigner.

Hundreds of pointed, interesting questions are put (in black type) and answered fully, clearly, convincingly, right underneath the question.

To give you an idea, here are a few of the questions:

Why is the U. S. called America? What was the Declaration of Independence? What is the meaning of the colors of our Flag? What is the Monroe Doctrine? What are Governments for? (and the brief answer to that question would stagger the Bolshevist.) How did Christ define duty? Why should the law be respected?

A reader learns of our Houses of Congress, our Judiciary; of the deeds of our great Presidents; of our wars; our holidays; our system of weights and measures.:

This Manual contains the words of the Star-Spangled Banner, of America; full-page pictures of Washington, Lincoln, Roosevelt and Wilson; a list of our Presidents.

Instructions are given for Naturalization, Home-life, the family, children, health, cleanliness, education, and character.

Size 6¼ x 4 inches, lapped paper cover, 131 pages. Price, single copy, 50 cents, postpaid; three copies for One Dollar, postpaid.

An Easter Story—The Tale of the Cyrenian

By MATILDA BERKLEY JONES

This is a most chaste and charming visualizing of the chief event of the crucifixtion and resurrection of our Lord from the view-point of Simon the Cyrenian. In simple narrative the wonderful Easter Story is presented in a new and beautiful setting. Simon the cross-bearer became Simon the Disciple and his sons evangelists.

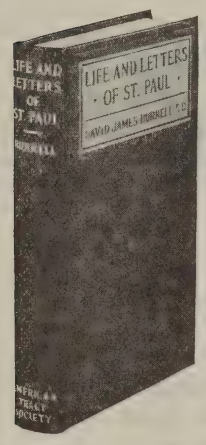
It is bound in a rich purple silk cloth with gold stamping, 24 pages and one illustration. Size 5 x 6½ inches. Price, 60c.

BEES IN AMBER

John Oxenham has come well to the front in these uncertain times as a writer of heart deep sympathetic verse, full of the human element, and an understanding and foresight which are a comfort. Read the some 75 exquisite poems.

Bound in durable art paper—124 pages. Size 4¾ x 7⅛ inches. Price, 85c.

LIFE AND LETTERS OF ST. PAUL



Owing to the large demand for a complete one volume edition of Dr. Burrell's popular books on Paul, we have brought out this complete one volume study entitled "The Life and Letters of St. Paul". The book is bound in a handsome cloth, beautifully stamped and contains a portrait of the author. It is divided into four parts with complete contents.

Part 1. Saul of Tarsus.

This is a comprehensive introduction written especially for this new volume. It most graphically visualizes his life from his youth thru his remarkable career.

Part 2. Paul's Campaigns.

This is an excellent study of Paul's Missionary Journeys. Wherever Paul goes, whether to Cyprus or to Rome, you feel yourself near him, hearing his fiery impassioned, fearless exhortions. When you read the gripping description of what Paul saw at Athens it will be brought home to you that here indeed is a study of Paul's wanderings showing real appreciation of the motives and difficulties of that courageous fighter for Christianity.

Part 3. Paul's Companions.

Those searching the Acts and the Epistles to obtain a distinct idea of the characteristics and personalities of Paul's Companions well know the gathering together and co-ordination of references that are necessary. This book, replete with illustration, metaphor, anecdote and parable strives to impart in modern language a full, deep colored impression of those closest to Paul's person and work. Impressions that only the Bible student who has plodded back and forth thru the relevant chapters can hope to convey.

Part 4. Paul's Letters.

"The feeble voice of Paul was silenced centuries ago, but the letters that he wrote with his tremulous old hand, surviving the tooth of time and the razure of oblivion, abide as finger parts of the centuries, pointing to Christ".

So begins Dr. Burrell in Paul's Letters. Paul's Letters are eloquent even in their silences. Can we get today, after nearly 2,000 years, new light on Paul's Letters? Surely we can and see new beauties in them too, and one not delve into the endless ashes of dry statistics. Throughout this whole series on Paul you will find one constant aim kept in mind: to present Paul in most alluringly readable form studies that give even the most profound searcher into Paul's life a better grasp of some phase of it; yet in a style so modern, so unlike the average text book that an ordinary business man idly fingering over the pages would find he wanted to read a bit. Dr. Burrell emphasizes among other things the importance to the minister of illustrating his preaching. Every page of Paul's Letters is verdant with the evidence of the way he himself illustrates.

blessed help"

IN heaped measure the Bible offers its meat. Few partake of every morsel. Verse after verse is but dimly understood. Verse after verse is passed with its meat almost untouched, if the inner meaning of that verse is not fully grasped.

A Blessed Help for Every Bible Reader

This Self-Explaining Bible is a beaconlight to the inner meaning of a difficult verse.

The Bible text is printed on the upper part of each page; masterly Notes and Explanations occupy the lower part of each page. If you are ever at a loss to understand some verse, just drop your eyes lower on that same page. You'll find difficult verses explained clearly spiritually, carefully—not a mere shallow word or two, but an explanation that can be understood.

Four years of the life of the master of Bible study, Rev. Justin Edwards, D. D., were devoted to this work. He it was who wrote these Explanations for all of the New Testament and for the Old Testament as far as the Book of Job. Prof. E. P. Barrows then carried on the task. Complete, it is a mighty work of 1,500 pages.

The "Christian Observer" says:

"The notes in this edition are exceedingly clear and pointed. They go right to the root of the matter. They are brief and yet full of thought and information."

It is not an exaggeration to say that this Self-Explaining Bible really yields up the full sweetness of the Bible.

Ministers: Bible Readers

Grateful letters come here from the friends of this Bible. A Minister will write of his daily use of the Explanations; of their value to him in his sermons. The late J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., the noted New York preacher, held these notes to be "marvels of scholarly condensation"—to use his own words.

Trustworthiness

You can depend on the correctness of these Explanations. The Sunday School Times says: "In accuracy and critical trustworthiness, no other annotated English Bible approaches this." And the same meed of appreciation has come from readers in almost every walk of life.

Every Word Is Original

Every word is original, utterly original, written for this one Bible alone, and not to be found in any other. Regardless of what other explanatory books you may have, you will find this work different from all others—very different.

The Introduction

which precedes each Book is broadly helpful to the Bible Student. It starts you right. Learn the source, history and general purpose of the Book; learn the broad facts, in a word, before beginning your detailed study of that Book.

Extra Features

This Bible also contains chronological tables and indices, weights and measures, times and festivals, map, Family Record, and Outline of Kerr's Harmony of the Gospels.

If the price of this study were in three figures, a better understanding of the Bible would be worth it. Yet this Bible may be obtained in good binding at $5.00.
